Reserves Seeking Students

By TREVOR COLLINS

A startling new recruiting program that is planned to bolster the ranks of the reserve army in Victoria and provide Summer employment for hundreds of high school students has been announced by the Department of National Defence.

The plan will net students between the ages of 17 and 20 years of age about $150 cash and two months free room and board, plus a uniform.

All that is required of the student is that he be a member of the reserve army.

The training will be conducted on the basis of an eight-week course organized to achieve the standard of active force basic training.

WILL GO TO CALGARY

The course will be held at Currie Barracks, Calgary, Alta., from July 8 to September 1. Victorians taking advantage of the course will receive free transportation to Calgary and will leave here about July 6.

Object of the plan, according to officers of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) is to improve the standard of basic training within the reserve force.

It will also provide unit commanders with a reserve of personnel who possess a sound basic training as a source for the production of reserve force N.C.O.'s and instructors for mobilization.

SEE GOOD RESPONSE

Officers of the Canadian Scottish Regiment feel the new Government scheme will be "well received" by high school students and others looking for Summer employment.

Hundreds of students normally spend their Summer holidays working at odd jobs in the city to finance their schooling through the Winter months.

"This new Government program will give them about $150 cash and all expenses paid," Capt. S. A. Digby said. "Their job-hunting problems are over."

The order stipulates that students taking advantage of the course must be members of the reserve army and in the "very near future," according to Capt. Digby. "We have to advise headquarters on how many men to expect," he said.

Interested students are asked to apply at the Bay Street Armoury during the week.

Boat Capsizes In English Bay; Boy, Girl Saved

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP).—Two youngsters spent 45 minutes in the bitterly cold waters of English Bay here today after their small sailboat capsized in 42-mile-an-hour winds.

Scores of citizens along the beach had front-row seats to their rescue, which came when two plumbers put out in a rowboat.

In hospital for treatment of shock and exposure are Bernard Kelly, 14, and Myrna Lou Herron, 13. They were reported in good condition.

Howard Russell, 34, and his helper, Jim Hutchinson, 22, spotted the crowd, raced to a boat rental establishment, smashed a lock and jumped into the nearest rowboat.

"The boy and girl were hysterical and almost frozen stiff," said Russell.

"Ma Foi," Says Roger, "She Was Close"

Cougar Coach Roger Leger, his heart still in his mouth, is shown here as he stomped back to the dressing room after Victoria eked out a 4-3 victory over Portland Eagles last night. The win put Victoria ahead in the semi-finals for the first time.

One of the thousands of Cougars' young fans is George Wilson, 14, of 907 Market Street. He was one of many who ran into S.R.O. sign. As play-offs continue, things will get worse instead of better.

City Seeking Grant In Place of Taxes

By GORDON FORBES

The City of Victoria plans to ask the Provincial Government for a $100,000 "capital city grant" in lieu of taxes.

Although nothing official has been said, it was learned yesterday the request most likely will be made during the present sitting of the Legislature.

A capital city grant has been sought before, but this time efforts are expected to be extremely vigorous. This is probably because the city is facing a year of heavy expenditures, and there is considerable doubt if the present mill rate can be held.

ASSESSED AT $4,000,000

The assessment on tax-exempt Provincial Government land and improvements in Victoria is more than $4,000,000. When recently-constructed new buildings are added to the assessment roll, the figure may be closer to $5,000,000.

Taxes on this assessment would bring the city $200,000.

It is understood civic authorities want any capital city grant to be made annually. They want it laid down in a statute so there would be no danger of losing it if there was a change of government.

Total assessment on tax-exempt property in the city amounts to $18,686,000. This includes Dominion, Provincial and other properties.

SERVICES SUPPLIED

All municipal services are supplied to these properties, but the city receives nothing in return. The services include fire and police protection, public health and public works.

Victorians long have argued that because this is the capital city they have to pay a more-than-normal share of the legislative costs because of tax exemptions. This idea was stressed by a city official only recently.

The Government's reply has been that the fact that so many Provincial buildings are located here gives employment and purchasing power to a great many citizens.

The main building of the Legislative Buildings is assessed at $2,200,000, and the land is assessed at $240,000.

Two Superior Street buildings and the large building on Government Street haven't yet been fully assessed.

STRONG CASE SEEN

It is estimated that the assessment on Provincial Government buildings is 4.8 per cent of the total Victoria assessment of $87,000,000 (land and improvements).

The opinion of men in civic circles is that the city has a strong case for a capital city grant. They feel a reasonable grant would relieve the burden on the city.

Canadians Gain On Korea Front

TOKIO, March 30 (Friday) (CP).—Canadian and Australian troops forged sizable gains in muddy Central Korea, Thursday, but Red resistance stiffened elsewhere near Parallel 38.

The Commonwealth units hit little resistance and made their biggest of recent advances. They were slowed down only by rugged terrain and fast-flowing mountain streams swollen after three days of rain.

The Eighth Army command believes the Chinese and Korean Reds are capable now of launching a more powerful offensive punch than before, A.P. correspondent Leif Erickson reported from Eighth Army headquarters.

REDS REBUILDING

Protected against Allied air power by steady rains, the Reds are rapidly rebuilding their strength along and above the parallel which divides Red North and Republican South Korea.

There were other indications of Communist Spring offensive preparations. Rumors of possible peace parleys were spiked by Red China's rejection of Gen. MacArthur's truce bid. The rejection, in a Peiping radio statement, was coupled with the stiffest resistance in many days on several sectors of the Central and Western fronts.

Holliday, Ferrer, "Eve" Academy Award Names

HOLLYWOOD, March 29 (AP).—"All About Eve," Jose Ferrer and Judy Holliday . . .

Those were the winners tonight in Hollywood's 23rd annual Academy Awards chase for the gold-plated Oscars emblematic of the movies' top achievements of 1950.

"All About Eve," a sophisticated look behind the footlights of Broadway, featuring Anne Baxter trying to usurp the crown of Matinee Queen Bette Davis, won nominations for both of them as best actress.

But Miss Holliday, playing the dumb blonde of "Born Yesterday" in the comedy hit of the year, edged them both out. The picture was the story of a rich junk man trying to buy influence in Washington, but the squeaky-voiced antics of its star stole the show.

SPECTACULAR ROLE

Ferrer took the male acting award for his poetry-spouting, sword-swinging part of "Cyrano de Bergerac," one of the most spectacular in recent years. He played the famous lover with gusto and a large putty nose.

Top supporting Oscars went to Josephine Hull for "Harvey" and George Sanders for "All About Eve." Miss Hull played the flighty, fluttery sister of James Stewart in the story of the invisible rabbit, and did a masterful job of letting him foul up her life. Sanders was at his best as the suave, cynical drama critic of "All About Eve."

There were other notable highlights:

Joseph L. Mankiewicz, for the second year, took both writing and directing awards. This time it was for "All About Eve," two of six which the picture garnered. Last year it was for "A letter to Three Wives."

ZANUCK HONORED

Darryl F. Zanuck, 20th Century-Fox's executive producer, won the Irving Thalberg Memorial Award for outstanding movie achievement for the third time—more than any other individual.

Delay Seen In Release Of Terms

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., March 29 (INS)—United Nations officials and delegates indicated today that Red China's rejection of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's truce offer would bring requests for a delay in issuing the Korean peace blueprint.

All sorts of secrecy now envelop the next U.N. diplomatic move which is being carried on under the initiative of the U.S. in consultation with 13 other governments which have troops in Korea.

Present plans call for publication of the U.S.-drafted blueprint to end the fighting as a sort of highest-level peace overture to Mao Tse-tung. Such a proclamation will be made in due time.

NOT YET BEATEN

U.N. sources believe, however, that the Peiping broadcast rejecting Gen. MacArthur's true offer signifies that the Communist regime's military forces have not yet been beaten to the point where Mao is ready to talk terms.

For the same reason, the U.N. three-man "good offices" committee is waiting patiently for the day when Peiping may give the signal for peace talks.

Wismer Promises Liquor Plebiscite At Next Election

Attorney-General Speaks Against Move; Doubts Either Probe or Vote Necessary

A plebiscite on changes in liquor distribution will be held at the next general election in 1953, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced yesterday in the Legislature.

"It is felt a mandate should be obtained from all the citizens of the province," he said. "I therefore state on behalf of the Government that the plebiscite should and will be held at the next general election . . ."

The Attorney-General said he did not agree that a Royal Commission was necessary. He doubted, also, the liquor changes presented a case for a plebiscite.

"We should either introduce sale of liquor by the glass or refuse to do so, and stand or fall in a democratic way at the polls," he declared.

"However, this is a democracy and the majority has decided to submit the matter to a plebiscite," he explained. "I cannot quarrel with this conclusion, though I would have preferred the other way."

The Attorney-General said it had been decided to hold the plebiscite at the next general election because people would not vote in numbers at any other time, because interested pressure groups, "especially those with heavy financial backing," could influence the result between elections, and because the cost of a plebiscite was estimated at $300,000.

NO HURRY

"There is no hurry about the matter, because it is common knowledge that if the answer favored cocktail bars it would cost millions of dollars to construct, alter and equip restaurants and bars for this purpose, in competition, not only with housing programs which are being held up for materials and labor, but also with the Federal Government's defence program . . ." declared the minister.

Mr. Wismer denied the suggestions that he controlled the policy of the Government on liquor.

He declared that since 1933 the liquor question had come up every year he had been in the Government "and I have consistently and publicly opposed sale of liquor by the glass."

TWO OTHERS

"During that time there have been two other attorneys-general who apparently did not consider it was necessary to make any change," he said.

In the whole of Canada, only Quebec and Ontario made any changes in their liquor laws, he said.

"In other Provinces conditions are uniform the same as they are here," he added.

There is nothing new in sale of wine and liquor by the glass in restaurants, contended the minister.

Such a system of distribution was in effect before prohibition.

NOT STANDING UP

"The only difference that is now suggested is that there should be cocktail bars with seating capacity, and no drinking standing up," said the minister. "I haven't had much experience, but I always thought a man could drink more sitting down."

The only other difference from pre-prohibition days is that under the "new system" women were admitted, he added.

The Attorney-General said he had opposed sale of liquor by the glass because "it is my firm conviction that with more and more opportunities to drink under pleasant surroundings, more liquor will be drunk, not less, and more and more young people will drink it."

He suggested present moderation in the use of liquor in England might result from the fact that the working man there did not get enough wages to get drunk even if he wanted to, and whisky was scarce and very dear.

M.L.A. Crosses Floor, Coalition Split Widens

Split in the Coalition yawned wider yesterday when Mrs. Tilly Rolston announced in the House that she had lost confidence in the Coalition Government and was crossing the floor to sit as an Independent member representing Vancouver-Point Grey.

Her action came two weeks after W. A. C. Bennett, member for South Okanagan, split with the Government.

MRS. TILLY ROLSTON

Both Conservatives within the Coalition, Mrs. Rolston and Mr. Bennett voted against the Government on the Hospital Insurance bill, bill.

A native of Vancouver, Mrs. Rolston was first elected to the Legislature as a Conservative from Point Grey in 1941. After joining the Coalition when it was formed as a bulwark against the C.C.F., she was re-elected at general elections in 1945 and 1949.

OPPOSE DSALES TAX

A fiery speaker, Mrs. Rolston first voted against the Government on the 2 per cent sales tax in 1948. She has scolded the Government repeatedly about the color ban on margarine.

Mrs. Rolston is the only woman ever to be elected to the House as a Conservative and is one of seven women members to have sat in the House.

Others in addition to the present Speaker of the House, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, have included: Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith and Mrs. Paul Smith, Liberals; Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, Mrs. Grace MacInnes and Mrs. Laura Jamieson, C.C.F.-ers

Order Now Ready to Cut Steel in Civilian Goods

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP).—Government officials have put the finishing touches to a new steel order, the first to curb the use of steel in the manufacture of civilian consumer goods, it was learned today.

Production Minister C. D. Howe is expected to sign it and put it into operation after his return from a Bermuda holiday Monday.

At a later date will come publication of the Government's new "utility goods" program, by which the volume of consumer goods will be maintained, but without the usual trimmings.

WASHERS, STOVES

Effect of the new steel order, it is expected, will be to limit the amount of steel which manufacturers of such items as washing machines, electric stoves and refrigerators can employ in their plants.

It is predicted that the cutback may be as much as 20 per cent of normal use, paralleling the steel orders in the United States.

While the new restrictions may affect a wide range of civilian goods, it is not known whether they will include the automotive industry.

CARS AFFECTED

Passenger car production already has been hit by the United States order which restricts use of steel in vehicle production also by 20 per cent. Most of Canada's car body stampings come from the United States.

The new steel order will be the first of its kind for Canada in peacetime. Previous orders have dealt mainly with construction.

R.C.A.F. Bombs Fail to Free Ice-Dam Flood

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., March 29 (CP).—Four 500-pound bombs were dropped by two R.C.A.F. planes tonight below an ice jam in the South Saskatchewan River which has caused considerable flooding here.

Flooded roads made it impossible to get a close look at the results, but observers with field glasses said that although a lot of ice was thrown up the explosives did not appear to relieve the situation.

Meanwhile, the two Mustang fighter-bombers from Rivers, Man., were standing by at the nearby Suffield airbase in preparation for another bombing run at dawn.

The river break-up started at 9 this morning. An hour later, an ice-bridge a mile below the city backed up miles of heavy ice and caused a rapid rise in river levels and serious flooding through low sections of the community.

By noon the river had risen 14 feet and some 60 homes were partially flooded. Six families had to be evacuated.

Quick-Witted Rescue

Child Plunges Into Well But Saved by Neighbor

Four-year-old Judy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cochrane, Duke Road, Albert Head, is none the worse for a 40-foot plunge to the bottom of a well yesterday afternoon, due to a quick-witted rescue by a neighbor, William Benson.

The little girl was playing around the old well, which had been boarded in, when she fell through the boards.

Her brother Howard, and her sister, Patricia, ran screaming to the Benson home, about 60 feet from the well.

Mr. Benson grabbed a length of rope, tying it about his middle as he ran. The other end he looped about a nearby tree and went down the well after the little girl.

Mr. Benson praised the child for her coolness.

"She didn't get panicky at all, but waited quietly until I tied the rope around her, and R.C.M.P. constables, who had arrived, pulled her up," he said.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

LONDON.—This city probably has the most complex and yet the most efficient transit system in the world.

The publicly owned London Passenger Transport Board, formed in 1933, gobbled up private and municipally owned transit companies totaling 170.

Now L.P.T.B. employs a staff of nearly 100,000—not much less than the population of Greater Victoria. It serves an area of nearly 2,000 square miles with buses, trolley buses, trams, surface railways and underground railways.

Every day it handles an average of 12,500,000 passenger journeys.

About 750,000 commuting workers enter and leave the central area every day—not far short of the total population of Toronto, a city which is now beating its chest and crying with a great voice about a new subway.

* * *

London Transport owns 7,107 buses, 830 trams, 1,764 trolley buses and 3,941 trolley cars; 85 bus and coach workshops and garages; 20 railway workshops and depots; and three power stations which swallow 2,000 tons of coal a day.

All London Transport vehicles together travel 652,512,000 miles a year.

More than 1,500 tons of tickets are issued every year; 30 tons of coins are dumped in the bank every day. Half a million spaces are reserved for advertising spaces in stations and cars.

London Transport has its own private telephone system, with 6,000 telephones, 34 exchanges.

On the busiest section of London's railway network, trains run every 90 seconds most of the day. In Coronation year, 1937, they ran every 28 seconds at Charing Cross—London's busiest station. In normal times nearly 1,000,000 passengers pass through Charing Cross in a week.

More than 10,000 people mount and descend the moving stairs at Oxford Circus between 5:30 p.m. and 6 p.m.—the rush hour.

* * *

London got its first horse bus in 1829 (the last was taken off in 1916). Steam buses came in 1833; underground steam trains in 1863; the world's first underground electric railway, 1890.

There are two surface and near-surface lines and four deep "tube" lines going as far as 192 feet underground and passing at one point under the bed of the Thames. The world's longest tunnel (17¼ miles) is on London's Northern Line.

* * *

Safety devices on trains include automatic signals which shut off the power when a train passes them at red; and a "dead man's handle" which stops the train if a driver collapses at the controls.

* * *

So what? Well, those are a few facts to check us when we start boasting how large and modern everything is on this continent. We still have a long way to go.

No North American city in the forseeable future is likely to grow as large as London. Perhaps that is just as well. But in the interests of truth we and the Americans should really stop touting ourselves as the last word in size and speed.

Fails to Pay Premiums; Has Hopes

Nathaniel French, 3277 Albion Road, was remanded to April 26 on a charge of failing to pay 1950 Hospital Insurance premiums. He appeared in Saanich police court yesterday.

Accused admitted he was $73.50 in arrears and said he was unable to pay at the present time.

"If my wife sells her house I'll be able to pay immediately," he told the magistrate.

Victor Vinton, 634 Dupplin Road, pleaded guilty to an infraction of the seldom-enforced Saanich night parking by-law.

Magistrate H. C. Hall fined the accused $2.50 and warned that stiffer fines would be imposed for the offence in future.

LORD'S DAY OFFENCE

Margaret Steele and Igna Harrigan, joint operators of the Music Box on Douglas Street, pleaded guilty to allowing dancing on the premises after midnight Saturday, contrary to the Lord's Day Act.

Magistrate Hall fined Margaret Steele $5 and suspended sentence against Igna Harrigan.

Man Fined $100, Costs For Income Tax Offence

Failure to file a 1948 income tax return cost T. S. Carson, 1717 Carrick Street, $100 and costs in city police court yesterday.

He was fined $25 on the same charge in June, 1950. Jack Ruttan, counsel for the accused, pleaded Carson was "too busy" to file the return.

"Any man knows he must file an income tax return," said Magistrate H. C. Hall. "That's no excuse."

ASSAULT CHARGE

John J. Jossul, St. James Hotel, charged with assault and causing bodily harm to Arthur Creelman, R.R.3, Wilkinson Road, was remanded to April 5. Bail was set at $500.

Jossul was arrested following an incident in a hotel room Wednesday in which Creelman had his face lacerated, false teeth broken and ribs badly bruised.

He will be in Veterans' Hospital for "two or three days," according to a police report. Mr. Ruttan is counsel for the accused.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Ronald A. Wood, 335 Gorge Road and Daisey Barnes, 2027 Carrick Street, charged with failing to pull to the curb at the sound of an approaching siren, both pleaded not guilty and were remanded to April 3.

A charge of assault against Veda Spragett, 541 Pandora Avenue, was withdrawn by Isabel Draginos, 1319 Government Street.

William A. Hardy, 3820 Saul Street, charged with failing to have a red flag on a truck loak of lumber, was fined $10. The offence occurred March 20.

His Smartness Brings $5 Fine

Being smart to a police officer doesn't pay.

William George Burrowa, 21, 1167 Clovelly Terrace, appeared in city police court yesterday on a charge of failing to obey a traffic light on March 19.

City Prosecutor, Claude Harrison, told the story thus:

"I guess this is with the compliments of Henry," accused told the constable.

"Henry who?" the constable answered.

"Henry Hall, the magistrate," Burrows said. "All you cops are alike. If you weren't wearing that uniform I'd beat you up."

"Just a little smart—fined $5." Magistrate Hall said.

VIGORO grows grass in common sand!

It's just plain sand—taken from desert dunes. Yet, this thick, lush stand of grass grew from seed in that sand—thanks to regular Vigoro feedings!

Swift research proved it! Proved that grass can be grown in common sand—grass as thick and lush as can be grown in the finest golf course soil—if it's fed with New Process VIGORO. New Process Vigoro makes grass greener, nourishes longer, and goes ½ further than ever before! (Of course, this test measured feeding values only; it does not imply that sand is a satisfactory growing medium for grass.)

HOW TO APPLY: For dormant lawns, apply any time at rate of 3 lbs. per 100 sq. ft. If lawn is green and growing, apply at same rate and wet down thoroughly. For new lawns, apply at same rate before seeding, otherwise wait until new grass has been cut twice.

Five Syndicates' Tenders On Debentures Turned Down

FIVE syndicates' tenders on $500,000 of debentures were rejected yesterday by the Greater Victoria Water Board. "The bids all were far too low for the board to accept," said the official.

The money is required to pay for the new pipeline into the city from Humpback Reservoir. The line was completed last year as far as Thetis Lake Road.

Remainder of the project, from Thetis Lake Road to Smith Hill Reservoir, has been shelved temporarily because of the steel situation.

History Made as Bids On House Exactly Same

Two contractors figuring costs on the same house made history in Victoria.

Architects, Birley, Wade & Stockdill recently called for tenders on the proposed home of C. H. Pitts of Sidney.

Five firms bid on the job but the lowest wound up with exactly the same figure: $19,999.

"I don't know what to do now," declared John Wade. "It's the first time in my 16 years' experience I have ever seen this happen."

Mr. Wade thought perhaps it would be a good idea to have the firms of T. Lambie & Son and Farmer Construction Limited, toss a coin to see which would build the house.

MISSED BY $1

This is the second time the contracting firm of T. Lambie & Son has come close to contracts but missed out by the narrowest of margins.

Its bid on the new Cadboro Bay School was $64,000. The contract went to Luney & Robinson, who submitted a bid of $63,999.

"Lambie & Son are a little anxious about the outcome of the house contract," Mr. Wade said.

Federal Deposits Hit $72,309,000

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP). — Dominion Government deposits increased $15,328,000 to $72,309,000 during the week ended March 28, the Bank of Canada reported today in its weekly financial statement.

Chartered Bank deposits increased $4,964,000 to $546,423,000, while notes in circulation increased $4,493,000 to $1,219,717,000.

Will Describe New Faculty

New faculty of medicine at the University of British Columbia will be described by Dean Myron M. Weaver in an address before the Victoria Extension audience at 8:15 p.m. Monday in the Victoria College Normal School auditorium.

He will deal with the faculty and building requirements for the medical department and the role being played by the Vancouver General Hospital and private practitioners.

Medical school admission policies, research developments and students' aid will also be discussed.

Sixty students are nearing the completion of their formal training in first-year medicine at the new faculty.

Variety of Experience On Atom Commission

THE ATOMIC STORY

(This is the last of five articles giving the latest, authoritative information on America's multi-billion dollar atomic development program.)

By DARRELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON, March 29 (INS).—The story of atomic energy development and use in America today is the story of five guarded, little-known men weighing fateful decisions.

The five men are the members of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commissioner—a lawyer, a physicist, an engineer and an electronics expert. What these men decide may very well decide this country's future—in peace or war—for many years to come.

Here are some of the major decisions in their hands:

1. How much of the nation's atomic potential should be sunk irretrievably into the hydrogen bomb which turns out to be a heavy consumer of atomic fuel and which, unlike the A-bomb, cannot be converted back to power purposes in case the world turns toward peace?

2. The A.E.C. this Spring is to bring out an atomic "furnace" that will produce electricity and at the same time produce more atomic fuel than it burns. Does this mean that the entire stockpile of atomic explosive must be kept forever active in furnaces in order to take advantages of its ability to increase itself?

3. With military sea and air propulsion coming to the fore, what priorities are to be set up on the use of the precious atomic explosive, each cubic inch of which can release either suddenly or gradually, as much heat energy as roughly 500 tons of coal?

CHAIRMAN SEATTLE-BORN

These are the commissioners who are weighing the problems:

Gordon Dean, the chairman, 45 years old, is a stocky, genial, partly-bald law professor on leave from the University of Southern California. He was born the son of a Baptist minister in Seattle, Wash., graduated from Redlands and U.S.C., and became a Justice Department attorney in 1934.

He served as a navy intelligence lieutenant during the World War, and later was assistant to Justice Robert H. Jackson in the Nuremberg war crimes trials. Dean joined the commission in 1949 and was appointed to his present post last Summer as the delayed successor of David E. Lilienthal.

Sumner T. Pike—A lanky bachelor from Lubec, Me., Pike is senior member of the commission. He is a Republican and a close friend of Lilienthal's.

He is intensely interested in getting the best out of atomic possibilities. As a geologist and mineralogist as well as a business expert, Pike has specialized in raw materials and has championed plans for introducing private enterprise into the atomic program. He is the most fluent of the commissioners in discussing the program in laymen's terms and partly for this reason is often called on for Congressional testimony.

REAL ATOMIC EXPERT

Dr. H. D. Smythe—The only commissioner who is himself an atomic scientist, Smythe is lean, diffident and scholarly. He is a native of Clinton, N.Y. A graduate of public school in Lawrenceville, N.J., and the holder of three degrees from Princeton University. During the World War he was one of the most distinguised physicists aiding the Manhattan District in developing the A-bomb.

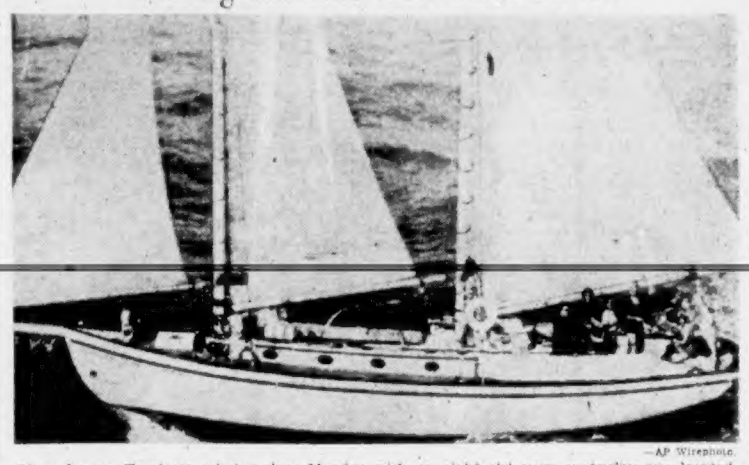

In 1945 he wrote the "Smythe Report" which, although prepared as a Government report, probably still is the best textbook in existence on the subject of atomic energy.

Thomas A. Murray—A small, grey-haired man, the father of 11 children, Murray contributed engineering experience, a field becoming increasingly important as the commission moves closer to atomic propulsion. Murray was born the son of an outstanding engineer in Albany, N.Y., and was graduated in mechanical engineering from Yale. A former Chrysler executive and a trustee of New York's Fifth Avenue Bank, he also formerly directed his own engineering firm in New York and has been granted more than 200 patents, chiefly on electrical and welding inventions.

NEWEST MEMBER

Thomas K. Glennan—Extremely youthful-appearing at 45, Glennan is the newest member of the commission and contributes electronics experience—another field of growing importance. He was born in Enderlin, N.D., and formerly was a studio manager in Hollywood, but got into radar and sonar work during the World War and was warded the Medal of Merit for services at the navy's underwater sound laboratory. He is now president on leave of Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland.

Missing Schooner Now Safe in Port

—AP Wirephoto.

The schooner Tropicair, missing since Monday with an eight-girl crew, yesterday was located off the Florida West Coast by flying cameraman Ken Richards, who spotted it seven miles at sea after it had first been sighted by a Coast Guard plane. Here the crew waves at Richards' low-flying plane. The Tropcair later limped into port at St. Petersburg.

"Wrong Informing" Blamed by Thief

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29 (INS). — When Robert Francos entered his auto repair shop in San Francisco today he found his safe had been wrecked and a note:

"Please excuse the sloppy job. It is not worth deforming. I thought there was more to rob due to a wrong informing. But after all we are even. You've got no safe. I've got no dough."

The note was unsigned. Francos told police there was about $30 in small change in the safe.

Key Role for Scouts In Civil Defence Plan

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP).—Canada's 117,000 Boy Scouts are going to play a vital role in the country's civil defence mobilization, say two national Scout leaders just returned from separate cross-country tours.

W. L. Currier, deputy chief executive commissioner, and E. F. Mills, executive commissioner for training, said today in an interview they found scouting growing in all parts of the country and everywhere an awareness of new responsibility.

The scouting movement is prepared to "do anything it is asked to do" in civil defence, they added. Trained Scouts will fit in as messengers, signalers, first aid attennndants, damage surveyors and in rescue work and observation.

All Scouts now are working on the basis of a civil defence preparedness pattern outlined in a booklet sent to all troops by the Boy Scouts' Association. It gets down to fundamentals on first aid, entering damaged buildings, traffic control, reconnaissance, signaling and rescue work.

Scout organizations in all provinces have been in touch with civil defence officials. In Saskatchewan, Mr. Currier said, the association has offered the services of 5,000 Scouts to the Provincial Civil Defence authorities. The offer has been accepted.

Both leaders said they were impressed by the improved calibre of leadership in the scouting movement. Scout membership totaled 117,680 now compared with 110,030 a year ago. The figure includes 11,000 leaders.

In the West, Mr. Currier said, he found Scouts camping out on the snow-covered prairie in sub-zero temperatures, proving that they knew how to "beat the weather." A number of Scout instructors in the West were passing on cold-weather knowledge obtained through the army's Arctic training courses.

General Sweep Across 38th Parallel Still Political Decision, States Truman

WASHINGTON, March 29 (CP).—President Truman said today the United States still aims for a united, free Korea but he drew a sharp distinction between this political policy and immediate military objectives.

At a press conference he endorsed [illegible] Marshall said two days ago on the problem of crossing the 38th Parallel. In brief, what Marshall told reporters then was that Gen. MacArthur is crossing the old Korean dividing line as the security of his forces requires but that any general sweep of U.N. forces into North Korea is a matter for "political consideration."

NO POLICY CHANGE

Truman said there has never been any change in the U.S.-United Nations policy to liberate, stabilize and unify all of Korea. But when reporters questioned whether he was implying that MacArthur now would undertake to wrest all North Korea from the Chinese and Korean Communists, the President said there was no implication of that sort.

Truman said MacArthur's instructions on crossing the 38th Parallel are the same as they have always been.

On other matters, Truman:

1. Said the United States Government is taking "positive steps" to fight crime and is carefully studying new anti-criminal measures.

DENIES FIRING O'DWYER

At the same time he denied any intention of firing William O'Dwyer, Ambassador to Mexico, or White House aide Donald Dawson, who have figured respectively in Senate investigations of crime and of alleged "influence" in the granting of Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans.

2. He has decided whether he'll run for re-election next year. But he laughingly refused to tell what decision he has reached.

3. The world situation is just as critical as it has been, and the need for high production is greater than ever.

4. Prompt action is vital on his proposal to give India 1,000,000 tons of grain at once. Then there'll be time to explore in greater detail India's request for an additional 1,000,000 tons, he said.

Iran's Rich Landowners, Reds Share Land Reform Blockade

TEHRAN, March 29 (Reuters).—Rich Iranian landowners and the suppressed Communist Tudeh Party have an undeclared alliance to block land reforms being pushed by the Shah.

The Shah has already announced his intention of transferring to the peasants the ownership of 4,500 Crown properties, valued at about $2,000,000.

The clandestine Tudeh Party fears that land reform would weaken Communist influence over the peasants.

The landlords want to block any legislation which would force them to follow the Shah's example. They claim this is not the time for land reform because Iran's strained finances cannot afford the tremendous outlay it would entail.

The general belief, however, is that public opinion will be too strong for the opposition. It is believed that even if a general break-up of large estates does not take place, agrarian reform will come in some form.

The reform program must overcome several other difficulties.

The Shah at one time wanted to modernize and develop the Crown lands before handing them over to his people, but he now agrees that an immediate move must be made—a striking lead to help cure the country's economic ills.

The process of transfer must be handled carefully; otherwise agricultural production will fall drastically and the peasants will be worse off than ever before. A Royal Commission is studying this.

Senate Votes To Continue Crime Studies

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The Senate today speedily approved resolution extending the life of its crime investigating committee one month—through April 30.

The action was taken by unanimous consent at the request of Senator Lester Hunt (Dem., Wyo.), acting in behalf of the crime committee headed by Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem., Tenn.).

Only about half a dozen senators were on the floor at the time the resolution was approved.

MORE HEARINGS

The committee got its new lease on life just two days before it was to die. And there was a likelihood the Senate will order another round of city-by-city crime studies running far beyond the new April 30 expiration date.

The committee requested it be kept alive until April 30 for the sole purpose of reporting on its ten-month country-wide study of organized crime; and of preparing its ideas for laws to combat interstate crime operation.

Kefauver and Senator Herbert O'Conor (Dem., Md.), a committee member, told reporters the group still may recommend creation of a permanent crime commission to carry on investigations and co-ordinate activities of federal law enforcement.

Suits Tell Weird Tale

Aged Group Lives Years In Hovels Awaiting War

BURBANK, Cal., March 29 (INS).—Suits filed in Burbank superior court today disclosed the bizarre story of eight elderly men and women who hid for four years in the mountains, storing their food in caves, and living in rude hovels without water.

And all because their pastor tipped them off there was going to be an atomic war!

The eight, members of the Gospel Assembly in Christ of Van Nuys, Cal., charged in their court suits that their pastor, Jerry Hauff, induced them to sell their homes and possessions and give him the cash. The actions ask return of approximately $50,000.

The eight oldsters—Martha and Clarence Gill, Enos and Orella Engelbrecht, Bessie Pletcher, Carrie Odegard, Emma Bartels and Calvin Burton—said Hauff told them he received "messages" from God that an atomic war was coming.

Hauff said they should sell their homes and go to "Eden City," near the small community of Acton in the Angeles national forest.

There they had to store their food in caves, work 80 hours a week caring for livestock and chickens and doing heavy chores, and lived in huts without running water or toilet facilities.

Welfare Units Meet Jointly

Directors of these organizations and any citizen who has contributed to the Community Chest is invited to attend.

Rates on Fish May Be Lifted Still Farther

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP).—Additional increases in express rates on fish are in prospect, the Board of Transport Commissioners was told today as it heard evidence on proposed boosts in some rates.

C. N. Ham, traffic manager of Canadian Pacific Express Company, said the railways now are considering these additional increases:

1. On eastbound fish movements out of British Columbia, which would be put up if and when the competitive railway express agency of the United States increases rates. The U.S. agency is seeking a 25-per-cent hoist.

2. On some international rates, including those from the Northern Alberta fishery.

Mr. Ham was testifying on behalf of the railways' attempt to raise intra-Canadian express rates on fish by varying amounts up to 68 per cent. The proposed increases have been held up by the board order since 1949 as the result of protests from the fish industry and others.

Before the Canadian Pacific official took the stand today, the board denied a railway motion that it throw out the complaints and let the companies put the suspended increases into operation now.

Oddities

TARENTUM, Pa., March 29 (AP).—If James Mufley had known that 60 firemen were coming to dinner he might have baked a cake.

Smoke pouring from a window summoned the firemen, who found Mufley sitting calmly in his smoke-filled room.

"What are you doing here?" Mufley asked.

The firemen burst into an adjoining room and found the fire. It was on the stove under a steak cooked the way Mufley likes them—very well done.

BOSTON, March 29 (AP). — The Boston Globe today printed on page one this "emergency" letter to the editor:

"Will you please tell me whether April Fool jokes should be played on Sunday or Monday? April 1 comes on Sunday but sometimes holidays are celebrated on Monday. I always put salt in the sugar bowl on April Fool's Day.

"(Signed) Kathy, aged 7, Newburyport."

RENSSELAER, N.Y., March 29 (AP).—Rensselaer streets went uncleaned for half a day because a cat used the street-sweeping machine for a maternity ward.

It took half the morning to extricate the cat and her two kittens. It took the rest of the morning to reassemble the apparatus.

Cat and kittens are doing well.

So We'll Patch Up the Liquor Act—In 1953

THE Honorable the Attorney-General would need to be a much better prophet than circumstances have indicated in the past before he could rely too much on his assurance in the Legislature yesterday that this Administration would patch up the Government Liquor Act in 1953, after a plebiscite at "the next general election." If, however, Mr. Wismer's words are to be taken as the Government's formal refusal to do anything about the liquor control situation in British Columbia now, or even next year, then it is wholly on a par with the number of things this Government is going to do nothing about, in spite of repeated and public requests to the contrary. Meanwhile, of course, there is to be a little more protection for the beer parlors —and a little less for minors of "the apparent age of twenty-one."

Take Hospital Scheme Out of Politics

MR. Herbert Welch, Coalition member for Comox, has recommended to the Legislature the appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the hospital insurance service, rather than a survey by a committee of the House as the Government proposes. That is a very sensible suggestion and one which, if adopted, should give the public some assurance that the Government was genuinely trying to make the scheme work. The changes in the act made this session certainly have not done so.

The main reason given by Mr. Welch for suggesting a commission inquiry is that the public, incensed now against the increased rates, might not accept the findings of a committee of the House that approved them. In this he is probably right. While the amending bill was a Government measure, it was adopted by a majority of the Legislature, which thereby assumes responsibility for it. The public is apt to feel that a committee of that House is unlikely to do any better job of investigating than it did of cobbling the scheme this month.

Provincially the hospital insurance scheme is the major political issue of the hour, with elements of all three parties trying to turn its failures to their advantage. The fact that all shades of public opinion plainly applauded the principle of insurance, if not some of the means used in applying it, makes it most desirable that the whole matter should be taken out of the realm of politics and turned over to an independent body for investigation and recommendations. Such a step would go far to restore the confidence now lacking.

If the Government can be persuaded by its supporters to appoint a commission, the terms of reference should be broad enough to enable it to inquire not only into the structure of the scheme and its administration by the hospital service as a Government department, but also into the expenditures and general administration of the hospitals themselves, to check on the persistent reports that they are not co-operating as wholeheartedly or running their affairs as economically and efficiently as they might. Such a commission, however, should be instructed to report within the year.

The Cure Is in the Ratepayers' Hands

LACK of proper sewerage facilities in Saanich has been a serious drawback to what otherwise might be a municipality of inviting residential status. It also has been a latent threat to the health, not only of Saanich residents but also of the whole combined area of Greater Victoria. Hitherto only good luck has enabled the community to escape an epidemic whose proportions could be alarming.

Saanich ratepayers will have a chance to do something about this problem tomorrow when they go to the polls to vote on a proposed sewer by-law designed to end the inconvenience and menace of poor drainage. Twice before in recent years they have turned down similar by-laws, a disapproval somewhat strange in this modern day and age. For their own sakes if for no one else's it would seem advisable that this new scheme should receive the approval that is sought. Property values alone would be increased were the municipality to be thoroughly protected by up-to-date disposal methods.

Past refusal to reform the sewerage system has resulted in the greater bill of costs now required to do the job. The new plan is expensive, but it is comprehensive and would re-make Saanich from the standpoint of sanitation. Some concessions are planned to help ratepayers meet the cost for individual connections to sewer mains. In the final analysis it is up to the ratepayers to say whether or not they will march forward progressively or lag behind amid a constant threat to their health and welfare. A new sewerage deal is badly needed in Saanich; there can be no doubt about that.

There Is No Capital City Plan

THE City Council will be confusing two issues if it asks the Province for an annual grant for services rendered in lieu of escaped taxes under the guise of a capital city plan. The fact is there is no capital city plan, the City for twenty years having toyed with this idea but never seriously enough to put it to the Town Planning Commission, from which source such a plan for the beautification of the provincial capital might be expected to develop. What the City seems to be referring to now is the question of tax indemnification and its complaint there is real. It has long been anomalous that Victoria should service $4,000,000 worth of Provincial property for nothing, when the same property in private hands would yield $200,000 annually to the City. Both issues should be kept separate, and both, given the opportunity, pursued.

"PAY, OR ELSE"

Sir,—The average workingman, like myself, wanted and still wants hospital insurance. We paid from the start. However, we all would like to know where the terrible deficit came from and the Member of the House who will fight for us regardless of his politics, can be sure of being returned in the next election. They tell us "pay or else." Now the people will tell them "or else."

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Sir,—It is refreshing to see one paper in these days of spoon-fed bureaucracy taking an independent stand. In the past I have paid this insurance after my Blue Cross was taken from me, but now I owe it to my dependents to save up the $35 cash demanded for admittance. I cannot help thinking of Ernest Hemingway's book entitled "For Whom the Bell Tolls," and they are pulling on the ropes now. Yes, the voice of the little people will be heard and their votes will hurt!

ROUNDING THE CURB

Sir,—According to The Daily Colonist issue of Good Friday, last, the old homes of the late David Spencer and Mr. C. Spencer are to be demolished to make room for a large parking area. The question of congested traffic on Belleville Street has recently been considered. May I suggest that the acute angle of the property formed by a garden at the junction of Belleville and Government Street be removed and a roadway rounded out to conform with the curve on the opposite side on Causeway and Belleville.

It would be a great help to traffic between South Government and Belleville.

An island formed by the pavement at the present junction would be an assistance to pedestrians, and in the direction of traffic on the new road curve.

"I Heard a Thousand Blended Notes"

I heard a thousand blended notes,
While in a grove I sate reclined,
In that sweet mood when pleasant thoughts
Bring sad thoughts to the mind.

To her fair works did Nature link
The human soul that through me ran;
And much it grieved my heart to think
What man has made of man.

Through primrose thufts, in that green bower,
The periwinkle trailed its wreaths;
And 'tis my faith that every flower
Enjoys the air it breathes . . .

The budding twigs spread out their fan,
To catch the breezy air;
And I must think, do all I can,
That there was pleasure there.

If this belief from heaven be sent
If such be Nature's holy plan,
Have I not reason to lament
What man has made of man?

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THE price of admiralty, says Public Opinion (London), is not blood alone. It is ships and dockyards and repairs, and all the vast ancillary assets that go to make war afloat and under the sea.

And in these the United States has no rival.

History as well as a rumpus was made in the British House of Commons recently when it was announced that the Royal Navy would pass under the command of an American admiral in the Atlantic, for this was a significant disclosure. It symbolized as perhaps no other fact could do the new balance of power in the world.

No longer is Britannia the ruler of the seas.

It was no wonder a hurt cry arose in Britain. The Navy rings a bell in British hearts. It has been their guardian shield and pride for centuries. Britons love their soldiers and their airmen, but their sailors have a niche all their own.

* * *

Until the Second World War they were supreme. It was the White Ensign that policed the seas; that made the oceans safe for all travelers; that enabled the nation now taking its place to grow in peace and prosperity to its present dominating position.

Strange are the ways of fate. Strange that her finest hour should coincide with such a turning point in Britain's long history.

It was inevitable, of course. Sheer manpower was in the end bound to determine the leadership of the Western world. No longer could that small sceptred isle hope to equal in physical strength the giant resources of the New World, human and material. The marvel is that for so many centuries Britain maintained her primacy of the sea.

There is a sense of nostalgia and of loss when a great man dies; there is a similar sadness when the heyday of a great nation is over. Not that Great Britain is finished, not that she will not continue to be a powerful influence in the world, but no longer is she THE Western power.

The tumult at Westminster quieted and stillness reigned as the Admiralty's political chief recited the naval accountancy that mattered.

* * *

In one category alone, that of aircraft carriers, Britain's strength at the moment is 12 ships; that of the U.S. Navy well over a hundred carriers. In battleships, cruisers and destroyers America vastly exceeds Britain; in naval personnel the ratio is about 7 to 1.

Although gun for gun and man for man Britons will continue to think, as well they might, that the Royal Navy is second to none, the weight of sheer numbers is the argument that counts.

It is a sore blow this to British pride, to a nation that thinks of Drake and Nelson and Cunningham, of the Armada and Trafalgar and the River Platte, and of a score of other victories unmatched by any navy in the world. It is a bitter reflection that the price of admiralty in two world wars has been to make the greatest effort of all the Allied nations and in doing so give up a place held for three hundred and more years.

Now the balance of power has passed to American hands, as this revelation of the relative strengths of two navies has made clear. The transfer may be noted in many other ways manifest in the postwar years, but with none does the emphasis seem so strong as with the shift in the supremacy of sea power.

It will be for the U.S.A. to prove worthy of the heritage now fallen to its lot, to bear itself with humility as well as with pride, and to lead the van of Western civilization with dignity and restraint.

To be mistress of the sea is a great but also a grave responsibility. The White Ensign bore it well.

Americanizing Canada's Armed Forces

(Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., in the House of Commons)

AT the present time we are in the position of having to change our armament from the British to United States type. The Minister of National Defence (Mr. Claxton) told us how we were sending great quantities of arms to the armies of Western Europe. Obviously those guns and rifles must be replaced by arms and equipment manufactured on this continent. I do not think that anybody will quarrel with that policy. However, I plead most earnestly at this time that we do not follow slavishly the organization of the United States armed forces, that we do not adopt, lock, stock and barrel the United States staff organization and the organization of their armies.

* * *

I think that any attempt to Americanize the Canadian army 100 per cent would be viewed with dismay by the Canadian people as a whole. I am disturbed by statements that have appeared in the press indicating that there is a tendency to go further than is necessary in Americanizing our Canadian forces. A wholesale change at the present time would disrupt the Canadian army. So far as the infantry is concerned, it would mean that battalions of old historic regiments would lose their identity. We would have to make a complete change in our supply system. The Royal Canadian Army Service Corps would have to assume the functions of a transportation corps and quartermaster's corps in order to conform with the organization of the United States army. The Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps and the R.C.E.M.E. would be changed beyond all recognition.

Within our divisions we should have to adopt the United States system of medical services, and I think that few who have had any experience with the two systems would question that the Canadian system is superior within divisions so far as medical services are concerned. Surely the care of the wounded is one of the prime considerations of any army organization. So far as staff is concerned, we should have to adopt the United States G-1, G-2, G-3 and G-4 system instead of having a division between our general staff and administrative staff.

* * *

Coming to the higher level, in the United States army the corps has very little administrative authority over the division. If it so happened that a Canadian corps was serving with the United States army and we were organized according to their system you would find that our Canadian divisions would be administered directly from United States army headquarters. I emphasize this point because of the reports that have been circulated, and I say that any sweeping changes in our organization would be unwise and detrimental at the present time.

There will have to be minor changes. It is necessary that we accept United States arms and equipment. If we carry United States arms then it is necessary to modify our tactics in order to make the fullest use of such arms; but with the exception of the fact that we are to be supplied by a United States pipe line I feel that no other changes should be necessary.

A Tax on Taxes

(From The Toronto Telegram)

THERE is every reason for housewives to be alarmed at the proposed amendment to the British North America Act permitting provincial governments to impose a hidden tax on commodities. This tax has been described as an indirect tax because it would be incorporated, and therefore hidden, in the sales price. Actually it would be a direct blow to the housewife, to every consumer, because it directly and immediately raises the cost of living. It would eat into Family Allowances, which would fetch less goods for the money; it would to a certain extent nullify gains obtained in increased wages; it would make it increasingly difficult for families subsisting on a modest income to maintain a decent standard of living.

The proposed amendment, it should be realized, is a piece of deception from the start. And by that it is not only meant that a tax which is concealed in the price is intended to escape notice and to fool the people. The fact is that while the amendment sets 3 per cent as the maximum tax which a province may impose, it will actually cost the consumer more than 3 per cent.

The 3 per cent is a false ceiling since, complicated as it may sound, the merchant will have to increase his prices beyond 3 per cent in order to pay the government its 3 per cent tax. The merchant cannot simply add three cents on to the price of a $1 article because the government's tax, since it would be levied on $1.03, would then cost him money. To avoid paying part of the tax out of his own pocket he would have to charge more than $1.03. This amounts to a tax on a tax.

As matters stand, the consumer pays an 8 per cent sales tax imposed at the manufacturer's level. This means that after the article has passed through the hands of the wholesaler and the retailer, each of whom includes the tax in his price and raises his mark-up accordingly, the consumer pays a great deal more than 8 per cent. It is now proposed that, on top of all this, the consumer should pay a plus 3 per cent tax not only on the price of the article but also on an existing pyramid of sales taxes, customs taxes and excise taxes.

It is not surprising that housewives should look with dismay and indignation at the effect of this on their budget.

Complicated Command in Europe

(From The Windsor Daily Star)

GENERAL Dwight D. Eisenhower's selection of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery as deputy supreme commander of Atlantic Pact forces was anticipated for so many weeks it hardly came as a surprise.

His choice of additional aides illustrates the complexity of his command. Other British and American as well as French, Danish and Norwegian commanders, and probably an Italian general, will hold the top posts.

This is an even more complicated set-up than SHAEF, over which General Eisenhower ruled as supreme commander in 1944 and 1945. In those years the fighting in the West was largely a British-American-Canadian show, and the top staff commands could be shared by the two major participants. This time it is necessary to give the smaller units in the defence ensemble a sense of participating in the overall planning. It will have advantages and drawbacks.

The assurance that it will work centres on General Eisenhower himself. Already he has demonstrated his ability to co-ordinate the work and get the best effort out of men of conflicting temperaments. Not having lost the art, he can do it again.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

IN one of those up-country antique shops you find in villages and wayside farms, they have a piece of furniture known as a lullaby-bench. Made of plain white pine, it is a bench about five feet wide, very like any low, comfortable bench, with a back to it, that you might see on a frame porch. But this one is on rockers.

A comfortable low bench, on rockers. There are two holes in the seat of the bench, about 30 inches apart. Into these holes fit an upright wooden frame, along the outer edge of the seat. This makes a sort of little box. And into that box, you lay the baby, all wrapped in its shawls; and on a cushion, no doubt. Then, you sit down on your end of the bench and proceed to rock.

And you can sing, as you rock, or knit, or read a book, or merely relax into that delightful state of mind which goes with rocking a baby.

A cradle has its merits, of course. You can sit nearby, and rock the cradle with your foot on one of the rockers. But actually, a cradle is non-participating. It detaches you from the baby. On a lullaby bench, you feel every bit as identified with the baby as if you had it in your arms while you rocked. And you can see it better.

Cradles started to go out of fashion around 1890-1900. They began to creep back into style about 1950, when the doctors had to admit that a little personal relations might not be a bad thing for babies. In furniture shops, you can now order a cradle without causing the cabinet maker to scratch the back of his head and screw up his face. The antique dealer, who owns the old pine lullaby bench I saw, says that he put an outrageous price on it, because he is fond of babies. And he likes to see customers, on going back to their cars, busily making sketches on the back of old envelopes before they drive away.

Harvey Takes Command Of R.C.M.P. in Victoria

Sub-Inspector Charles H. Harvey, World War veteran and Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer since 1919, yesterday took over command of the Victoria division of the R.C.M.P.

He replaced Sub-Inspector George Clark, who has been transferred to Edmonton to work under Assistant Commissioner A. T. Belcher, who [illegible] changeover when the B.C. Police were absorbed by the R.C.M.P.

Shareholders Meet

Still Higher Power Cost Seen if Inflation Goes On

B.C. Electric rates in Victoria may have to be increased again unless the Government is able to halt inflation, according to A. E. Grauer, president of the company.

Mr. Grauer was addressing the annual meeting of shareholders in Vancouver.

Earlier this month the company was granted an interim increase in rates by the Provincial Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. Grauer said rising costs had wiped out any hope of raising the rate of dividend and resulted in the application for electrical rate increases.

"The net earnings of the company and the rate of dividend will be directly affected by the success or failure of Government policy in stopping inflation, and so will the question of whether or not we will need to apply for further rate increases in the future," he said.

Business Tax Suggested for Revenue To Raise Victoria Firemen's Wages

If the City of Victoria can't find enough money to pay proper wages, it should impose a business tax, Hugh Bird, Vancouver, spokesman for Victoria's firemen told a conciliation board yesterday.

The board is hearing a dispute between the city and its firemen. They are asking for wage boosts [illegible] to $60 a month.

The hearing concluded yesterday.

"It is the city's responsibility to find the money to pay decent wages," said Mr. Bird.

He objected to firemen's wages being compared with policemen's, saying the only fair comparison to make was with other firemen.

NO RIGHT

"The policemen's wages have no more right to be brought in here than a charwoman's wages," said Mr. Bird.

The spokesman said "it is ridiculous that firemen in British Columbia's second city should be paid so low."

Yesterday's hearing became heated at times.

The union took strong objection to a statement by City Manager C. C. Wyatt which Mr. Bird felt "suggested collusion between Vancouver City Council and Vancouver fire fighters in their wage agreement."

THREATENS ACTION

"If Mr. Wyatt doesn't withdraw that remark we will have to see legal counsel," said Mr. Bird, who is president of the Vancouver local of the International Association of Fire Fighters.

The heat died down when the city manager said the word the union found most offensive was a typographical error. It read "sound anticipation" instead of "some."

Padre Speaks To Kiwanians

In an inspirational talk to the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel last night, club padre Rev. Moir A. J. Waters said "the church and Kiwanis both stand for the great spiritual values that are needed so much in a Christian democracy and in the world of today."

Service Clubs, he said, can do much toward working out implications of the Christian message in practical ways of fellowship and service.

Optimists to Hold Peanut Day In Spite of Ban on Street Sales

Victoria Optimist Club will go ahead with its Peanut Day for boys' work funds May 26, despite a ban by the city on street sales.

The decision came at a business meeting in the Pacific Club yesterday, after Optimist President Ted Baker had sharply criticized the city's ruling.

Revised plans call for peanuts to be sold in off-the-street booths. Orders will also be canvassed by telephone and delivered in cars.

The club held a Peanut Day last year. City fathers turned thumbs on street sales at a meeting Tuesday.

WHY HANDICAPPED?

Said Mr. Baker: "I was so surprised when I read it that I nearly fell on the floor. I fail to understand why an organization such as ours, with an ambition to help young people in the right road toward citizenship, should be handicapped to this extent."

Ald. Mrs. Margaret Christie had praised the club's work in installing a recreation room at Cold Harbor Road boys' detention home, but she might have said a lot more, Mr. Baker said.

"She could have mentioned the 40 or 50 boys we send to Summer camps for two weeks every year, or the 200-odd boys who have gone through our Junior Optimist Clubs on their way to being better citizens of Victoria, or the hobby clubhouse which cost $4,000 and was built on a lot which the club bought from the city for $840.

"I read in The Colonist recently that juvenile delinquency in Victoria is on the increase. If this is so, our job is getting bigger and bigger and we cannot work without the co-operation of the civic authorities.

"We require funds to carry on our work of preventing crime, and up to now every penny we have made has been turned back into the work. I feel that it is paying dividends already.

"Certain City Council members must come to realize before very long that their attitude toward the work of organizations such as ours is all wrong, and will lead to the undermining of all the constructive efforts we have made in the past.

NOT ALONE

"We are not the only organization which has suffered. There are others doing very good work and they keep getting battered down as though they were doing something wrong.

"Surely a properly-guided young citizen is the best assest any city can have. Why does Victoria see fit to discourage them?"

A peanut float from Toronto, with five entertainers, will be here for the Peanut Day. The entertainers will also visit Queen Alexandra Solarium and hospital children's wards. The float will take part in the city's May 24 parade.

HEAR OF PLANS

Optimists heard plans for a hobby show April 26, 27 and 28 in the Y.M.C.A., and for the convention of District 13, Optimist International, in the Empress Hotel, May 10, 11 and 12. The convention will bring 300 delegates from 33 clubs throughout the Pacific Northwest.

Fred Tanner spoke on photography as a hobby for boys.

The club said good-bye to Secretary Frank Bridget, who is moving to Vancouver.

Election of Officers Planned by Association

Sooke Community Association will elect officers at its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the Community Hall. Other business will include a financial report by Walter Condor, secretary-treasurer.

From the White House in WASHINGTON last night came denial of broadcast reports that the South Korean army is being prepared for demobilized.

Earlier, a National Broadcasting Company correspondent in Korea had said such action was being taken "at the insistence of the United States" over bitter South Korean objections, because equipment was not available for men, and because manpower was needed to preserve South Korean economy."

All this, said the White House spokesman, was not only inconceivable, but "pure bologna."

OTTAWA is making elaborate plans to provide a fitting welcome for President Vincent Auriol of France, when he visits the Canadian capital next week. He will be accorded all the ceremonial accorded the head of a state during his five-day stay in the Dominion.

Britain, says a LONDON dispatch, has almost trebled her precious gold-dollar reserves since devaluation of the pound 18 months ago. Those reserves have grown by about $300,000,000 during the last three months.

In BERLIN, Russian officials last night rejected a British-American protest against a Communist police attack on four U.S. Army buses filled with U.S. tourists, including children. The protest said shots were fired by the Reds. The Soviet reply claimed two Communist policemen were run down by the bus drivers.

Fast-growing budget surplus of the U.S., says a WASHINGTON dispatch, neared past the $5,000,000,000 mark yesterday, virtually assuring that the Government will end the fiscal year "in the black."

British Columbia teachers, meeting in VANCOUVER, grew angry yesterday on the question of salaries. They learned that cookhouse flunkies and ditch diggers earned more money than did many teachers. Then the teachers discarded a salary committee report recommending the seeking of a $1,900 to $3,600 basic scale for elementary and a $2,250 to $4,500 scale for secondary teachers, and boosted these demands by $250.

At CHIETI, Italy, Communist Deputy Laura Diaz, "glamour girl" of the Italian Parliament, will face a unique trial today. She is charged with insulting the Pope. Berth Prices Will Advance

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP).—Prices of berths on "short" runs of Canadian Pacific coastal vessel will jump 50 cents Sunday.

H. C. James, C.P.R. general passenger agent, said the increases will not affect service to Alaska or on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

Runs affected will be Vancouver to Nanaimo; Vancouver to Victoria; and Vancouver-Westview-Comox.

Mr. James said that, effective Sunday, a $1.50 berth in a two-berth room will be $2; a $2 berth will be $2.50; a $3.50 room alone will cost $4.50 and a $5 room alone will be $6.

Minimum day rate for cabins will also be jumped from $1.50 to $2.

Mr. James said the increases were caused by "increased operating costs."

Conference Official

E. W. GRIFFITH

Deputy minister of welfare, has been named honorary vice-president of the Third Biennial Western Regional Conference on Social Work being held in Winnipeg, May 7 to 10. He is one of three Victorians participating in the conference. Miss Marie Riddle, family division supervisor in the welfare branch, will serve on the conference committee, and Mrs. Ailsa Bishop, Victoria's family and children's services case work supervisor, will be on the program committee. K. O. Mackenzie, director of public welfare for Manitoba, is president of the conference.

Bio-Chemistry, Advertising Talk Subjects

Bio-chemistry tells you what makes you tick and the "advertising game" is neither a game nor an exact science, the Rotary Club heard yesterday at its Empress Hotel luncheon.

Two Rotarians, giving addresses on their own professions were Dr. Peter Gee-Pan Mar, bio-chemist, and John L. Henslowe, advertising man.

Bio-chemists work in hospital laboratories, make tests to check on doctors' diagnoses and study relations of normal and diseased matter, Dr. Mar said.

He told of great advances in bio-chemistry since the 19th century, and said one of a bio-chemist's jobs was to keep up with all new advances in medicine.

FORGET "HUCKSTERS"

Mr. Henslowe advised his fellow club members to forget such books as "The Hucksters" when thinking of advertising in Victoria.

"I've never had much success getting clients by champagne and dancing girls," he said. He thought Victoria was too small for that.

Advertising "is not a game. It's a lot of hard work," he said. Life expectancy of advertising men is 57 years.

Meeting Waits For Minister; Still Waiting

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP).—Members of British Columbia Associated Boards of Trade were all set today to pepper Health Minister Turnbull with questions on British Columbia's hospitalization scheme. But the minister wasn't having any.

Mr. Turnbull was due to speak at 9:45 a.m., but convention delegates couldn't find him.

They were well armed for an open question period and had a number of physicians with them to aid the discussion."

They said the minister had consented about two months ago to speak at the convention and thought today a good time to air British Columbia's most contentious political issue.

But at 10 a.m., Mr. Turnbull was in Victoria.

Later the minister's secretary said the invitation to speak got mixed up in the mail and was not answered.

Trio Convicted As Bomb Spies

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Two men and a woman were convicted today of passing wartime atomic secrets to Russia in the first atom spy trial in the United States.

The convicted defendants, who could receive the death penalty, are Julius Rosenberg, 34-year-old electrical engineer; his wife, Ethel, 35; and radar expert Morton Sobell, 33.

The prosecutor did not ask for the death penalty, however, during summation.

The trio was accused of relaying atom secrets to an international Red spy ring headed by Klaus Fuchs until his arrest in England early last year.

"King and I" Proves Broadway Miracle

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, March 29 (INS)—The masters, Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein II, created another miracle on Broadway tonight when they opened "The King and I."

This fifth union of their great talents—a superbly-costumed musical play based on Margaret Landon's novel of the British schoolmarm who was engaged to instruct the children of a King of Siam, circa 1862—is the most beautiful of the Rodgers-Hammerstein offerings.

But it will not cause their "South Pacific," which occupies the theatre across the street from tonight's opening, to subside and scatter its memorable players. Nor has "The King and I" even a small measure of the music of either "South Pacific" or the masters' legendary "Oklahoma!"

GLITTERING MIRACLE

"The King and I" is an authentic miracle nonetheless. It glitters with the talent, thoughtful care and enormous resources of this incomparable team. By comparison it makes their timeless previous offerings look shabby.

What the masters did for the middle-aged lover, through "South Pacific," they have done for the bald. Yul Brynner, as the polygamous king with 70-odd children, won himself an ovation last night from a smart set which, up till now, has regarded a bald bean as unbecoming.

Gertrude Lawrence, as knowing a hand as the stage possesses, found it difficult to keep from being overwhelmed by the vibrant and tremendous Brynner, though it is around her role, that of Anna, the full-bodied musical story revolves.

STRONG SUPPORT

As in all Rodgers-Hammerstein creations, the secondary roles are better than most leads in other shows. Dorothy Sarnoff, as the No. I wife of a king with a stageful of them; Doretta Morrow, as a luscious "present" to the king from Burma, and Johnny Stewart, as the young crown prince, are superb.

An avalanche of children lends utter charm to "The King and I," and Jerome Robbins' choreography, especially his tremendous Siamese version of Uncle Tom's Cabin, are events which can never be forgotten by a theatre-goer. They and the principals, and the enchanting story line, make one forget a score that is surprisingly listless in spots.

You should be able to get tickets to this one about April Fool's Day —1952.

RUISLIP, Middlesex, England (CP).—Relatives of 80-year-old Mrs. Ellen Barnett were asked to return her national insurance book because she was dead. Mrs. Barnett answered the letter herself, saying "dead indeed—I've never felt better."

Mrs. Annie Borgal, Box 314, Reserve Mines, N.S., is a well-known resident of the Maritimes. A young woman of 34, Mrs. Borgal suffered for many years with arthritic pain. She tried a great many remedies without success and the pain was so bad that she had difficulty in sleeping at night. Here is what Mrs. Borgal says in her letter: "I suffered with arthritic pain for 12 years, tried many remedies to get relief and could not. I could not get a good night's rest for the pains I had in my arms and legs. I would like you to know that the first bottle of SARNAK brought me relief. SARNAK so relieved my pain that I was able to get my rest and I am sure I will never find anything that does me as much good as SARNAK."

Yes, you should try SARNAK . . . as have thousands of others in Canada who suffer from rheumatic, neuritic and arthritic pain, sciatica, backache, lumbago or neuralgia, some minor forms of kidney and liver upsets, bilious dizzy spells, nutritional anemia, lack of vitality and nervousness caused by these symptoms. SARNAK is so effective for aches and pains and general run-down condition that you usually get results within the first few days.

Make up your mind to give SARNAK a chance to help you as it has helped thousands of others who had gone on day after day suffering. Thousands of bottles of SARNAK are sold every day in Canada. Remember, there are no substitutes for SARNAK. Always insist on the genuine SARNAK. In some rural sections where there are few drug stores, SARNAK may be difficult to obtain. Don't pay anyone more than $1.35 a bottle. Order by mail from your druggist or mail order house to assure yourself not paying grey market prices. If one druggist does not have SARNAK, try another.

At the hotel in Paris, Rob Trenton shared a double room with Merton Ostrander, and then, for the first time, realized the enormous amount of personal baggage which Ostrander had managed to pack into the little car.

Not only were there the two cartons of cowbells, as well as a steamer trunk loaded with personal belongings, but there was a heavy chest which Rob had at first thought contained painting materials. However, when Ostrander opened this box, it proved to be a complete set of tools, including an electric drill, files, wrenches and various other mechanical paraphernalia.

Al lmorning long Merton had been puttering around with his baggage, and then in the afternoon a telephone call summoned him to the floor below on a mission about which he did not see fit to consult Trenton.

Ostrander did not immediately return and when Rob entered the bathroom he noticed there were smudges of oil on the washstand. A round, metallic shaving on the floor rolled beneath his foot. The place from which this shaving had dropped was a complete mystery.

Ostrander returned about three [illegible] annoyed that Rob had made such a meticulous job of cleaning up the bathroom.

He walked over to the wastebasket, noticed the metal shaving, hesitated for a second or two, then explained, "I was trying out a drill bit. Linda wanted me to fasten the horn on the car more securely. It's been working loose. We're driving to Marseilles tomorrow and must get the car ready for loading. I wanted to be certain the drill was sharp."

"You've secured your transportation?" Rob asked.

"Just an hour or two ago," Ostrander said. "That's why I went dashing out. There was a chance to pick up a cancellation. I'm sailing on the same ship with you and Linda."

"Oh," Rob said tonelessly, "that's nice."

That night, about ten o'clock, Rob Trenton wakened from a sound sleep with a burning, metallic taste in the bottom of his throat. There were terrific pains across his abdomen, and even in the calves of his legs.

During the violent [illegible] retching which followed, Merton Ostrander was a solicitous nurse, putting hot compresses on Rob's stomach, assuring him that it undoubtedly had been the lobster salad at dinner.

Rob, remembering that Linda had had a seafood cocktail, insisted that Ostrander should go down, knock at her door, and find out if she was all right.

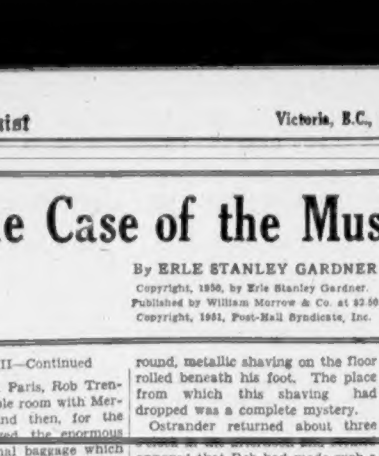

Before Ostrander left, however, he opened his medicine kit, which, he explained, he always carried with him and gave Rob two large white capsules which he felt certain would settle Rob's stomach now that his system had rid itself of the tainted food.

But a violent fit of retching caused Bob to slip the two capsules into the pocket of his dressing gown, and then, when Merton Ostrander called through the bathroom door to ask him if the capsules were staying down, Rob merely grunted an answer which Ostrander accepted as an affirmative.

So when Ostrander went down to tap on Linda's door, and Rob, the two capsules still in the pocket of his dressing gown, staggered over to the bed.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Culbertson on Bridge

If West had put up as strong a defence as his partner did in today's deal, the outcome would have been different!

South, dealer.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

West, on the fence between a diamond and a club opening, finally chose the diamond seven, which was fortunate in the sense that a club lead would have robbed East-West of any chance. East took the first trick with the diamond ace and shrewdly shifted to his singleton trump. This was taken on the board, and declarer then led the singleton club. East proved his mettle by playing low without hesitation, and South guessed wrong by putting in his own jack.

West, taking the cue from his partner, led another trump, and obviously, this created a problem for South. He could not hope to ruff all of his clubs, so he correctly shifted to the spade suit in an effort to build an extra trick there. He led the deuce, and when West played the five, simply passed the trick to East.

East was helpless to avert South's plot. He returned a diamond. South ruffed, then ruffed a club in dummy, ruffed another diamond and another club, and then entered his own hand with the spade ace to draw West's last trump. On this trick East was squeezed he either had to discard the club ace or give up his spade stopper.

East's defence, notably his duck of the singleton club lead from dummy, was excellent, but West missed his opportunity when he failed to put up the spade queen on declarer's first lead of that suit! This play would have broken the communications between South and North; or, if South let West hold the spade queen, another trump lead would wreck the contract.

London Market Quietly Firm

LONDON, March 29 (Reuters)—Trading on the London Stock Exchange today was quiet, but there was a marked firmness in British Government funds. Good buying of the medium and long-dated issues was reported.

Disappointment with the British American Tobacco dividend of 15 per cent for the year against 14 1/8 per cent depressed the price to 5 5/16, but Ford Motors were firm around 50 on the payment of 12½ per cent against 10 per cent. Shipbuilding shares improved.

Oils inclined lower in an idle market and irregularity was shown by tins and rubbers. In the foreign section, Japanese bonds eased and there was dullness to German issues.

Kaffirs and coppers opened lower but later recovered to close mainly firmer.

MOST BEETS

Alberta produced 615,000 tons of Canada's entire production of 1,115,000 tons of sugar beets in 1950.

Foreign Exchange

MONTREAL, March 29 (CP) — The American dollar today closed at 4 15/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 5/32 lower than Wednesday's close. That is, it took $1.04 15/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.94 13/16.

Freight Volume Down, Profit Up for C.P.R.

MONTREAL, March 29 (CP)—W. A. Mather, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, today reported a lower volume of traffic last year than in 1949 but highest net earnings since 1944.

In his report prepared for the annual meeting May 2, Mr. Mather said net income for dividends and surplus was $40,000,000 against $26,000,000 in 1949. This was $3.32 a share against $1.93.

Higher earnings resulted from higher freight rates. These partly corrected the "serious" difference in increase of rates and costs which developed progressively since 1945.

If wages and material costs had not risen after the freight increase granted by the Board of Transport Commissioners the increase would have given earnings "on the so-called 'requirements' basis laid down by the board," he said.

SEEKS INCREASE

The company sought further relief by applying for an immediate 5 per cent increase with certain exceptions and restrictions.

Gross earnings were $378,576,688, up $15,000,000 over 1949. Freight revenue accounted for about $14,000,000 of this, entirely from higher freight rates.

Freight tonnage dropped 2,500,000 tons to 53,900,000, mostly early in the year.

Net earnings totaled $38,020,357, an increase in the ratio of net to gross earnings from 5.7 per cent to 10 per cent.

NET INCOME

Net income was $47,867,011 after fixed charges but before dividends. "Other income" totaled $23,200,000, down $400,000.

Ocean and coastal steamships earned $3,100,000 up $862,000, partly helped by the return of the Atlantic Fleet flagship Empress of Scotland.

Increased operating costs and lower revenues at all resort and most city hotels caused a drop of $738,000 in earnings.

Communications boosted net earnings by $365,000, mostly from higher commercial telegraph rates and greater volume of traffic.

Canadian Pacific Airlines showed a profit of $203,000 against 1949's net loss of $113,000.

Market Lack Hits Home Oil

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—Home Oil Co. Ltd reports its net profits down 16 per cent in 1950. Net profit was $1,274,387, or 65 cents a share in 1950 as against $513,052, or 77 cents in the same period of 1949.

Gross production income for 1950 was $5,161,585 compared with $5,908,759 in 1949. Earned surplus rose $295,000 to $1,306,016 and net working capital of $2,964,889 was well over 1949's $1,540,656.

Net production was 1,500,758 barrels last year compared with 1,807,213 barrels in the previous year. Under "severe" prorationing, the company could have exceeded 2,000,000 barrels had there been a market, James R. Lowery, president, said.

Home Oil, with head office in Calgary, is Canada's second largest producer.

The company said no change in control of stock had taken place.

Canada Safeway Increases Profit

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP)—Canada Safeway Ltd. made a net profit of $2,740,108 in 1950, an increase of $484,194 over the previous year, the company said today in its annual report.

The company, Western Canada chain grocery store organization, is a subsidiary of Safeway Stores Inc. of Oakland, Calif. During 1950 the firm had 49 stores in operation in British Columbia, 26 in Alberta, 18 in Saskatchewan, 37 in Manitoba and four in Ontario.

Safeway sales in Canada totaled $108,539,722 in 1950, an increase of 10 per cent over the 1949 figure.

A cash dividend of $4.50 per share was paid on preferred stock.

BOND MARKET

MONTREAL, March 29 (CP)—Trading was quiet with prices firmer to unchanged on the Montreal bond market today. On the corporate market C.P.R. was stronger at 113. Great Plains was down from 105-107 to 103-105. Elsewhere corporations were steady in quiet trading. The balance of the market was featureless.

Consulting Engineer Ira B. Joralem, in his report to shareholders, said: "The future of Bralorne depends on Governmental action on the price of gold."

Railroad Stocks Lead Advances in New York

By The Associated Press

Demand for railroads put a lot of bounce in the New York stock market.

Throughout a see-saw day the rails generally headed up the market movements.

At the close they showed gains running to $3 for Nickel Plate at $208, while the rest of the market advanced by as much as $1 to $2 a share.

Not everything was on the upside, however. Most of the major groups had areas of backwardness, usually confined to losses of a few cents.

American Power & Light was the most active issue of the day off 1⅛ at 18⅝. In Spokane, the state superior court issued a permanent injunction against the sale of the Washington Power Co. to "two or more public utility districts by American Power & Light, the parent company.

OIL STOCKS ACTIVE

Oil stocks featured the dull quiet session on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Western oils moved ahead over a broad front with gains ranging from pennies to about 35 cents and refining oils in the industrial section added fractions. Base metals and golds firmed and industrials were mixed in sluggish trading.

Issues that headed Western oils higher included Anglo-Canadian, Atlantic Oil, Commoil Petroleum, Federated Petroleum, Home Oil, Royalite and Pacific Petroleum.

In the mixed industrial section price changes were small. Papers, utilities, banks and manufacturing companies showed a majority of gains in the groupings. Steels, agricultures, foods, constructions, liquors and retail stores were lower and textiles were mixed.

Base metals posted a wide list of small gains.

Junior golds climbed pennies in one of their strongest advances in a month. Senior producers were mixed.

Securities continued to firm fractions in slow trading towards the close on the Montreal stock exchange and curb market in contrast to declines earier in the week.

Advances were for the most part fractional. However Consolidated Smelters rose 1⅝ points to 138½ and Ford "A" climbed 1¼ to 62¼.

The industrial section, which includes textiles, constructions, millings and beverages, was unchanged to firmer in places. Papers and steels were mixed to a trifle stronger while senior oils and carriers were definitely firmer. Utilities were steady to firmer, senior metals were mixed and banks eased fractions.

Among the few industrial losers were Building Products, Bathurst "A," Noranda and Steel Company of Canada.

Mines were mixed to slightly steadier in moderate trading while Western oils firmed slightly. Changes were mostly of the penny variety and there were no features.

[illegible] stock exchange was halted as most of the major issues were up. Oils led the trend and golds remained steady.

SAANICH VOTERS

Your Representatives on the Municipal Council Have Unanimously Endorsed the Sewer By-Law for the Following Reasons:

1. A potential health menace will be eliminated.
2. Property values in the whole municipality will be enhanced.
3. The City of Victoria's offer re entering the northwest sewer expires as of March 31st. By using this sewer we are being saved over $500,000, as the alternative is boring — a tunnel through solid rock.
4. The proposed sewer system will serve the 4,000 homes at present in the sewer area and also an additional 3,500 homes, approximately 20 years natural growth.
5. The cost of the main sewer system will be a minimum of $15 a year and a maximum of $22.50 a year, per lot.
6. The annual maintenance charge will be $5 per house which compares very favorably with other municipalities in B.C.
7. The householder will be allowed 5 years in which to connect to the sewer.
8. Only those getting the sewer will pay for it.

Danny Kaye May Make Film For Paramount After "Huck"

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, March 29 (INS)—You can take it from me, when Danny Kaye finishes "Huck Finn" at M.G.M. he'll move Paramount to star in one comedy, and maybe more, for Don Hartman. It was Don who brought Danny to Dore Schary, and it was Don who made the first three Kaye successes at the studio.

I'm told the boys have a honey of an idea for Danny's next venture which is so original that they will only keep it to themselves. Don, by the way, deserves a big hand for the fights he has put up to build a polio hospital.

At a meeting of the Los Angeles County Supervisors it was decided to raise $6,000,000 instead of the $5,000,000 already voted for a new hospital.

It was Mimi Hartman, his lovely young daughter stricken with polio two years ago, who first interested him in polio. Mimi will be completely well in another year, and Don has never ceased fighting to help other victims.

LIKE MYSTERIES

Jack Warner says that one thing the public will pay money to see is a mystery story. They like these chillers on the screen just as they do between the covers of a book.

That's why he bought a new mystery novel called "The Ghost Is Clear" by Joan Scribner. But, even though Gregory Peck is great in "Captain Horatio Hornblower," I still cannot see him doing a ghost story.

Jack wants Greg, but, of course, you can never tell what story any actor will choose. Maybe a mystery thriller might not be bad to follow all the military epics in which Peck has appeared.

READY TO SAIL

I had a note from Judy Garland from New York and she said she would write me from London. She and Buddy Pepper sail tomorrow on her first trip to Europe.

She recorded last Wednesday's show with Bing Crosby before she left, and she reads lines as well as she sings. She told me Bing is so relaxed that she is never nervous working with him.

That's why I believe she will do his movie, "Famous," with him. Cole Porter is being discussed to write the music and if Charles Brackett is available he will be borrowed from 20th to produce, since this was on his schedule before he resigned.

ACTORS APPLAUD

It was a very thrilling moment on the set of "The People Against O'Hara" when a young actor, William Campbell, age 24, brought Spencer Tracy and John Hodiak and the crew to their feet to applaud him after his big scene.

Campbell plays a young hoodlum who outwits Tracy the lawyer, in a cross-examination.

After the youngster's speech Spence said to him, "Have you a contract?"

"No," replied Young Campbell.

"Well," said Spence, "it won't be long!"

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS

The battle between Betty Hutton and Pete Rugolo lasted twenty-four hours. He was back on the set of Betty's picture today.

Wonder if the battle between Elizabeth Taylor and Stanley Donen will last any longer? Liz came to a party at the Ralph Fields home the other night alone, saying she and Stan were through.

Spyros Skouras Jr. is marrying New York socialite Barbara Feldman on June 1. Both families are happy about the engagement, even though both parties are so young.

Dolores Costello Vruwink is suffering with shingles brought about by exhaustion and nerves, but she'll leave the hospital almost any day now.

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S EASTER EGGS

Hollow Tree School, which was mysteriously lost, had always stood on the road between Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow and Frog Pond. To go from the bungalow to Frog Pond, Uncle Wiggily had to hop or ride past the school. And the rabbit gentleman, with Chief the police dog, was in Chief's radio car, driving along this same road

"Where is Hollow Tree School, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Excuse me, Uncle Wiggily," barked Chief as he steered his car, "but how do you know Hollow Tree School is lost?"

"The Lady Mouse Teacher told me so over the telephone a little while ago, Chief."

"How did Miss Mouse know the school was lost?"

"Mr. Coke, the rat gentleman janitor, told her, Chief."

"And how did Mr. Coke find out the school was lost?"

"My chief, you certainly are a detective this morning, asking so many questions," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "It seems that Mr. Coke started to go to the school early this morning to turn on the fire in the furnace. But when he was near the place where the school should have been it wasn't there. The school had disappeared. Mr. Coke couldn't find it."

"It sounds very mysterious," admitted Chief. "But I see Mr. Coke in the road just ahead of us. We'll ask him about it."

The rat gentleman janitor stood beside the road waiting for the radio car to reach him. When Chief had stopped he asked Mr. Coke:

"What's all this about Hollow Tree School being lost?"

"You can see for yourself, Chief," replied Mr. Coke. "Or, rather, you can't see for yourself. Always, when I stood at this point in the road, I could look ahead and see the school. But I can't now. Can you, Uncle Wiggily, or Chief?"

Uncle Wiggily and the police dog, from where they sat in the radio car, looked down the road. Uncle Wiggily said:

"Always, before, I could see the school from here."

"Yes, so could I," barked the Chief, "But I can't see the school now. All I can see is a big pile of snow. Do you see the snow, Uncle Wiggily? A great, big round pile of snow? Do you see it?"

"Yes, Chief, I see it. And now I know where the lost school is. Ha! Ha! Ha! It is all very simple. The mystery is solved," said Uncle Wiggily.

"I don't see anything funny about it," barked Chief. "And I don't see the school. Where is Hollow School Tree, Uncle Wiggily?"

"It is hidden from sight behind that big, round pile of snow," the rabbit gentleman answered. "I see how it happened. Last evening Buster, some of his Rabbit Scouts and I rolled a big ball of snow to the top of the hill up there—the hill in front of the school. We left the big, round snowball there all night."

"But in the night the wind blew the ball away. It started rolling downhill. As it rolled and rolled in the soft snow, the ball became larger and larger until it was bigger than Hollow Tree School. The ball stopped rolling just as it reached the school. If we look behind the ball, Chief, we shall find the lost school."

Chief and Uncle Wiggily jumped out of the auto. With Mr. Coke they ran around behind the big snowball and there, surely enough, was Hollow Tree School, safe and sound.

"Well, I certainly am surprised!" said Mr. Coke and Chief said the same. And the janitor added: "I will go in school and telephone Miss Mouse that the lost school is found. And at recess time I'll get Buster and the other boys to help me dig away the snowball from in front of the school. After I telephone Miss Mouse I will ring the schoolbell and all the pupils will come to class."

That's just how it happened. Chief drove Uncle Wiggily back to the bungalow. Miss Mouse and all the pupils were soon in school. And Uncle Wiggily began to color his Easter eggs. He made many very beautiful. Perhaps you may find some of these eggs in your home tomorrow.

And I will tell you more about the eggs tomorrow if the carrot doesn't pretend to be an orange ice cream cone when it goes to the party which the cottage cheese is giving the rye bread.

Rocket Slaps Home Overtime Counter

Canadiens Triumph 1-0 Over Detroit To Gain 2-0 Edge in Cup Semi-Final

DETROIT, March 29 (CP)—Maurice Richard rammed in a goal after 2:20 of overtime play tonight to give Montreal Canadiens a 1-0 victory over Detroit Red Wings in the second game of their semi-final Stanley Cup play-off series in the National Hockey League. Montreal now holds a 2-0 edge in the best-of-seven series.

It was the second straight game that Maurice Richard, Montreal's

MAURICE RICHARD

Rocket, had swept in and slapped home the winning goal in overtime play.

A crowd of 13,818 at Olympia Stadium watched Richard put on a burst of speed just after the start of the third 20-minute overtime period, take a pass from Billy Reay and push home the puck.

BELIEVED RECORD

The game ended after 102:20 minutes of play. It came only two nights after Montreal had won a 121:00-minute game 3-2, and is believed to have bettered any existing records for the longest two consecutive overtime games.

The big story was Montreal goalie Gerry McNeil. He turned at the goal and stretched his shutout mastery over the league champion Red Wings to 182:19 minutes.

The two clubs now move to Montreal with the underdog Canadiens holding a 2-0 edge as the clubs prepare for two games on Montreal ice. The winner will face the victor in the Toronto-Boston series.

CAUTIOUS START

Play started cautiously tonight with close forechecking. But the two clubs opened up and play swept up and down the ice. But neither club scored until Richard came through. Sawchuk had turned back 46 shots before that.

In the first period, Detroit's Gordie Howe, leading scorer in the National Hockey League, missed connections on a goal that would have kept the game from going into overtime.

He rapped a hard shot past goalie McNeil but it struck the post and bounced out.

Both clubs tried to work their power plays in the third period when three of the six penalties were called. With a Montreal player in the penalty box, Detroit's Glen Skov missed on a shot into the unguarded goal.

Montreal got a similar opportunity minutes later, with a Detroit player in the penalty box. But the Canadiens couldn't get the puck past Sawchuk from close range.

Victoria-Portland Play-Off Action

Hec Highton, substitute Portland goalie, stopped this scoring thrust of Victoria's Eddie Mazur during first period of fifth game of Pacific Coast Hockey League semi-final at Memorial Arena last night but Cougar winger beat him in final period to break goal famine that had existed from first game. Dreaming Portland player (right) is Joe Ciuman.

Cougars Odds-On Favorites After Third Straight Victory

Sport

Victoria Cougars slammed their way into a 3-2 series lead over Portland at Memorial Arena last night as they edged the Eagles, 4-3, before a capacity crowd. The victory was their third straight in the best-of-seven P.C.H.L. play-off semi-final.

Clearly the better club on the night's play, the Cougars appear to have definitely smashed the Portland favorites to end the series in the sixth game at Portland Sunday. Although their last two triumphs have been by one-goal margins, the Victorians seem to have established their superiority and will go into the next contest with a manpower edge over the tiring Eagles.

LOSING MANPOWER

Obviously tiring in the grueling play-off play, the Eagles' hopes were further dimmed when it was learned last night that they will probably be without the services of George Homenuke, Frank Kubasek and Bill Summerhill on Sunday. Homenuke is out of action with a leg injury and Summerhill reinjured a shoulder when crashed heavily by Don Webster in the third period last night. Kubasek is reported leaving the club to attend the funeral of his father at Bellevue, Alta., on Sunday.

On the other hand, the Cougars came through unscathed although Joe Lepine is still favoring his injured shoulder.

On top after an uneasy opening five minutes, the Cougars came painfully close to losing a 4-1 lead and being forced into a fourth overtime game when they relaxed after Ed Mazur apparently cinched it with the game's fifth goal five minutes into the third period.

Loose clearing gave Summerhill a chance and he made it 4-3. Then came Webster's penalty which resulted in a third Portland goal with more than eight minutes left. The Eagles came close in the remaining time and the Cougars were fortunate 68 seconds from time when Bill Hartsburg slammed the puck past a post from the edge of the crease when he was confronted with a yawning goal.

HIGHTON GOOD

Lucky to escape in the early going as the Eagles started with a rush, the Cougars took over after Hartsburg completed a pretty passing play inside the Victoria zone for the first goal. Only the fine work of Hec Highton and bad shooting kept Victoria off the score sheet in the first period. One goal was lost when Joe Evans got his stick on a drive by Roger Leger which had Highton beaten.

Cougars backed the Eagles into their own zone in the second period as they completely outskated the Portland club. Less than four minutes into the period, Geoff Burman tied it up when he cruised in on the Portland goal to find the puck suddenly at his feet and Highton out of position.

Bad defensive work in which four Eagles chased two Cougars gave the uncovered Andy Hebenton a chance he didn't miss five minutes later and Joe Medynski made it 3-1 when he scored from a third scramble as the Eagles had difficulty in getting the puck out of their area.

Victoria lost another goal when Referee Dick Davis rightfully ruled Bob Frampton was in the crease but the Cougars confined the pressure at the start of the third period—until Mazur scored. The play was beautifully set up by Jack McIntyre, who completed some nifty stickhandling with a fine drop pass. With the Eagles completely subdued, the Cougars let up and almost lost it.

Two of the standouts on the winning side were McIntyre and Reg Abbott. The former played a good two-way game and was one of the better defensive forwards while the youthful centreman, currently playing his best hockey of the season, smartly set up his wingers with some clever passes.

CALGARY, March 29 (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers tonight assured themselves of at least a tie for the Western Canada Senior Hockey League championship with a 5-1 victory over Calgary Stampeders.

The Quakers and Edmonton would finish in a tie if Saskatoon dropped its last two games of the round-robin series and the Flyers swept their remaining three. A best-of-three play-off would then be necessary.

The loss for Stampeders definitely eliminated them from the race.

Big Increase In Broadcasts Of Baseball

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Baseball games will be broadcast and televised to more people this year than ever before.

Although some minor league owners have contended the two mediums are killing their clubs, the trend in recent years to increase coverage of baseball has not been stopped. There are 1,005 radio stations slated to handle games in 1951 against about 800 last year.

This is an increase of at least 200 over last year and 600 over two years ago.

The television picture for this season remains much the same as last season with 35 stations sending baseball games out on video. The same number televised games last season and only 25 televised contests in 1949.

Hockey Tickets Going on Sale Here Saturday

Tickets for the fourth Victoria P.C.H.L. play-off game will go on sale to holders of reservations and season ticket holders at the Victoria Hockey Club Ltd. offices at 825 Fort Street tomorrow morning, it was announced last night by Fred Hutchinson, general manager of the Cougars.

Date of the next game is undecided. If a seventh game is necessary in the semi-final with Portland it will be played here Tuesday. The first game of the final will also be played Tuesday if New Westminster should eliminate Tacoma tomorrow. However, if the other semi-final should go the limit of seven games and the Cougars reach the final, the first game of the final will be here Thursday with either Tacoma or the Royals as the opposition.

New Clean-Up Man

MIKE GOLIAT

Psychological move of Philadelphia Phils manager Eddie Sawyer, in moving Goliat from eighth in batting line-up to clean-up spot between Willie Jones and Del Ennis, has paid dividends. Goliat has .309 batting average for Spring training grind in comparison with his .234 mark for his first season in majors last year.

Clover Leafs Win Opener

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP)—The travel-exhausted Edmonton Meteors were turned back 71-66 tonight by the lowering Vancouver Clover Leafs in the first game of their Western Canada men's senior "A" basketball final.

Second game of the best-of-five series will be played here tomorrow night. All games will be played on the Coast.

Meteors took the lead nine minutes after the start but, five minutes later, the defensively-perfect Leafs went ahead and never relinquished their lead, which varied from eight to 11 points.

The Edmonton team, however, wasn't downhearted. Squad members said they have lost the first game of every series they have played this year.

PRICE LEADS

Bill Price led the Edmonton attack with 12 points. Price, who has a game average of 18, was held in check by the Leafs most of the game and his breakaways were few.

Jim Macres, who went out on fouls with only 4½ minutes remaining, followed with 11 points.

Rangy, sharpshooting Bob Pickel led the Vancouver bombardment with 20 points.

Edmonton—Clarke 9, Price 12, Kruger 9, Pearce 9, MacRae 11, Scorvell 1, Kimball 4, Conroy, Rice 2, Prather 3. Total 60.

Vancouver—Webber 8, Beare 4, Pomfret 16, Picker 20, Robertson 8, Bakker 5, Campbell 1, Burrell 5, McKinnon 3, Bilsewell 3. Total 71.

Baseball Fans On Their Own At Ball Park

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 29 (AP)—The State Supreme Court today ruled, in effect, that baseball fans have to watch out for themselves so they don't get hit by foul balls.

Specifically, the high court said operators of a baseball park are not liable if they provide "reasonably sufficient" protection for the customers.

The decision came in the case of William J. Lack who sued the Tacoma Baseball Club, Inc., for injuries received last year when he was struck by a foul tip.

Lack contended that, although there was a 36-foot high screen between him and home plate, there was no overhead protection. He said the ball which struck him was a pop foul which went over the screen.

Officials for the annual Vancouver Island Golden Gloves to be staged at the Bay Street Armoury tomorrow were named last night.

Jim Marshall, Bob Edwards, Eric Pyrah and George Schulte of Victoria and Rowan and Williamson of Alberni will divide the judging duties. Jerry Weicker and Art Brockman have been appointed timekeepers.

Jim Audain will be ring master and Dave Pye master of ceremonies. Alan Duval and a navy referee will officiate in the ring.

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP)—Crafty Billy Corbett tonight handed Calgary's Doug Harper his first defeat in 23 professional starts with a close decision in a mauling ten-round bout.

A's Sign Second Catcher; 14th Moundsman Reports

The battle for mound berths with Victoria Athletics became keener yesterday with the 14th hurler checking into camp at Santa Rosa.

Joe Mishasek, veteran of last season's squad, could not resist the urge to get back into baseball and went to the camp yesterday for a tryout. He will be signed if he shows anything in training, and if he has recovered from the arm injury which bothered him over the latter part of the season last year.

Business Manager Reg Patterson reiterated his praise of Bill Paine last night. A 23-year-old southpaw from Long Beach, California, Paine played with Memphis in the Southern Association last season and has looked really good in Spring training. He is six feet tall, weighs 181 pounds, and is expected to give the veterans a battle for a starting berth.

SIGNS VETERAN CATCHER

Patterson completed a backstopping team when he signed veteran Lilio Marcucci to a contract yesterday. Marcucci, who played with Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League in 1944-45-46, will share the mask duties with Milton Martin, promising youngster to be sent by Portland Beavers.

Confirmation was also received that Dick Bartle would join the A's when Portland moves north. With Marty Krug refusing to come to terms, Bartle becomes the leading candidate for the first base job. He will have to beat out rookies Don Priese and Hal Jackson, a Cuban.

Patterson is currently concentrating on securing a good infield double-play combination and expects to make an announcement in a few days.

NEGRO SEEN CERTAINTY

Victoria is almost certain to have a negro player this year. Granville Gladston, promising young outfielder from Panama City, will be given a tryout with the A's. John Ritchey, colored catcher, may be sent if the Beavers decide to keep Martin. It is not likely that two negroes will be in uniform.

League President Bob Abel, meanwhile, predicted that a new attendance record will be set this year. "With the new baseball park at Vancouver," he said, "the circuit is almost certain to break the old attendance record."

He reported the league in better shape than ever before but warned that no one can foresee the difficulties that might come from possible lack of manpower. "But the Western International is the best class 'B' league in the country and we will fare better than other 'B' loops because more of our men are older and are exempt from the draft," he added.

THREE NEW MANAGERS

Three new managers will make their debuts with Dick Barrett at Victoria, Bill Schuster at Vancouver and Hugh Luby at Salem. Bill Brenner has shifted from Vancouver to Yakima.

Spokane yesterday signed catcher Ed Nulty and pitcher Jim Holder but reported seven of last season's squad, including batting champion Glen Stetter, still unsigned. Stetter is one of four who may not play this year because of good jobs outside baseball.

Canucks Win Bantam Title Despite Loss

Vancouver Canucks won the Coast bantam hockey title yesterday although they dropped a 8-5 decision to Victoria All-Stars at Memorial Arena. Canucks took the first game Wednesday, 6-2, and won the total-goal series, 11-8.

Victoria took a 5-1 lead early in the third period to tie the series count at 7-7. Vancouver regained the lead on McMillan's goal but Monty Little scored for All-Stars to tie it up again. Penalties to Gillan and Paulin of Victoria allowed Canucks to break away for the winning markers after All-Stars had held a big margin throughout.

Bruins, Leafs Both Hurt By First-Game Injuries

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs added up their injuries today and neither found much satisfaction in the result.

The Leafs discovered that Al Rollins, their brilliant rookie goalie, won't be able to play again this season. He suffered a strained knee ligament Wednesday night when the Bruins beat the Leafs 2-0 to take a 1-0 lead in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

Coach Lynn Patrick of the Bruins reported there's some question as to when left wing Vic Lynn will get into action again. The former Leaf has a charley horse. It was an old injury aggravated in Wednesday night's hard-checking battle.

OTHER CASUALTIES

Patrick also reported: Steve Kraftcheck, rookie defenceman, hurt his knee; defenceman Max Quackenbush, who went into the game with one sore wrist, came out with two; veteran centre Milt Schmidt's injured knee hasn't improved.

For the Leafs, the loss of Rollins was softened by the knowledge that old Turk Broda will go back between the goal posts again. At 36, the National Hockey League's oldest active player, the Turk bears the reputation of being one of the most effective "money" goalies hockey has known.

Broda went into goal Wednesday after the first-period injury to the 24-year-old Rollins, who won the Vezina goaltending award in the N.H.L.'s scheduled season. The Turk played brilliantly although he yielded one of the two goals. Twice he out-guessed Boston forwards on breakaway plays—first Dunc Fisher, then Lynn. Rollins was hurt in a collision with Pete Horeck when he dashed out of his net to beat the Boston player to a loose puck.

WATSON DOUBTFUL

Big Harry Watson, a handy man in tough play-off going, is still a Toronto question mark for the second game of the series Saturday night. A minor shoulder separation last Saturday night put the left winger temporarily on the shelf.

AL ROLLINS

Patrick found one bright spot in his injury picture. Defenceman Murry Henderson, who missed the opener, skated in a fight drill the Bruins held today and felt pretty good. He may be ready by Saturday.

There was elation in the Boston camp over their opening victory over the series favorites. But they don't think it's all settled yet.

"We're very happy to get one game up," said Patrick. "But anything can happen before the series is over—and probably will."

SAME AS KENNEDY'S

A club doctor diagnosed Rollins' injury as of the same type as the one which laid Ted Kennedy up for 15 games last season. It is expected that an estimate of the length of the convalescence the goalie will need will be given in ten days.

Said Rollins, from his hospital bed:

"I saw the picture in the paper, the one where it shows him (Horeck) coming at me. It was pretty obvious what his intentions were. There certainly wasn't any need for it."

Tran Optioned

SEATTLE, March 29 (AP)—Infielder Len Tran, former Western International League baseball player, has left to report to Oklahoma City in the Texas League.

Tran, who played with Vancouver the last two seasons, was optioned to Oklahoma City after a tryout with the Seattle Rainiers of the Coast League this Spring.

Reese Expects to Play For Three More Seasons

Meter Take May Go Up

Gross parking meter revenues will be increased by $21,2[illegible] this year if City Council approves a proposal designed by City Manager C. C. Wyatt.

[illegible]

SEEN AS SOLUTION

[illegible]

During the past several months these matters have been carefully studied and these comments and recommendations are submitted as a means to bring about the needed efficiency in the operation of the meters both from a corporation and citizen point of view," said Mr. Wyatt.

DETAILED PROPOSALS

Here are his detailed recommendations:

[illegible]

ADVANTAGES GAINED

[illegible]

Statistics provided by other municipalities of somewhat comparable size show that the average daily take from their parking meters ranges from 30 to 35 cents," said Mr. Wyatt.

His report showed a 20-cent take on 350 meters would bring in $57,000 — a $7,000 increase over 1950 gross [illegible]

P.-T.A. Delegates Turn To Civil Defence Needs

Delegates to the Parent-Teacher Federation convention currently in session in Victoria virtually forgot their aims in education fields last night as they turned their attention to the problems of civil defence.

Following his address on the growth and problems of British Columbia schools, Education Minister W. T. Straith accepted the convention's request to outline the part that the federation and local P.-T.A. groups could play in the support of national defence.

FOR INDIVIDUALS

Mr. Straith cited the fact that civil defence was not a problem for the military or professional soldier alone, but for every citizen. The very nature of civil defence, said Mr. Straith, was one of relationship to the individual home. Arousing individual interest and co-operation was the task of the Parent-Teacher Federation, he concluded.

A resolution urging full co-operation of parent-teacher groups was immediately proposed and passed unanimously.

Dr. W. G. Black, in a report of the committee on school finance, asked for a general fund for all government income and expenditures to replace the present system of modified "earmarked" funds. Dr. Black also called for a uniform mill rate and assessment program to stabilize school finance.

ENDS TODAY

The federation's annual conference will close this afternoon. Among the activities slated for today's meetings are announcements of new officers and their installation.

The "Know Your School" display which has been held in conjunction with the convention will be open at the T. Eaton Co. Arcade Building until 7 p.m. today.

Money Voted Fails to Meet Bids on Schools

Department of Education officials met a delegation from Saanich School Board No. 63 yesterday to consider the fact that costs of proposed renovations and construction will exceed money voted by ratepayers in a by-law last year.

The meeting became necessary when it was found that tenders opened at the last school board meeting for the construction of three new schools and renovations to four existing schools disclosed that the lowest bids exceeded the voted sum of $750,000 by $55,118.

F. H. Stevens, representing the school board's architects, said bids were higher than anticipated because contractors wanted to protect themselves in a rising market.

The four-day sessions of the Institute of Public Health workers ended at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Borstal Work Expansion Urged by School's Head

Of more than 50 youths released from Burnaby's Borstal School since October, 1949, only six have been recalled, the school's director, Roxborough Smith, told Victoria John Howard Society members last night.

Mr. Smith told the society's annual meeting that causes of juvenile delinquency cannot be pinned down, and observed that of a group of 20 Borstal pupils, educational standards ranged from Grade III to second-year university.

He said he hoped to see expansion of the work of Canada's only Borstal School, and eventuall building of two more institutions of this type in British Columbia, as recommended by a 1936 Royal Commission.

Society Treasurer A. W. Hammond, in his annual report, said 39 former Federal penitentiary inmates, 130 from the provincial penitentiary, and 29 from the city jail had been helped last year with money for room and board until they found employment.

Mrs. C. Mitchell, president, said that a full-time official may soon be appointed to carry on the society's work.

Directors of the society for 1951 are: Mrs. Mitchell, C. G. Bateman, L. H. Ballantyne, B. C. Gillie, Miss M. C. Crickmay, W. A. Pearson, J. O. Nickells, Rev. E. M. Smiley, G. J. Scott, H. E. Botherell and A. Stott.

Saanichton Site Favored For New Municipal Hall

Central Saanich ratepayers last night approved a Saanichton site for the proposed new municipal hall, by a vote of 75 to 29 over the alternate Keating location.

The ratepayers met in the Agricultural Hall and informally expressed their approval of several other recommendations of the Central Saanich Council.

A change in the voting system for the next municipal election, whereby electors would have to vote for an entire slate was rejected 88 to 6.

First choice of any new firehall site should be Saanichton, with Brentwood and Keating following as finances permitted, the meeting advised the council.

The meeting voted 59 to 15 to wait until a Provincial Government apportionment board completes its findings on relative assets of Saanich and Central Saanich, before taking any definite stand.

There is reportedly dissatisfaction by many Central Saanich ratepayers over indication that their municipality's asset appraisal will fall far short of expectations.

Alberta Ready For Rent Control

EDMONTON, March 29 (CP).—The Alberta Government intends to proclaim rent control legislation already on the books if Dominion controls are withdrawn at the end of April, Premier E. C. Manning announced today in the Legislature.

An act passed by the Alberta House last year provides for an arbitrary refereeing system to handle appeals from either landlords or tenants. After an appeal, the Government arbitrator would assist the opposing parties to negotiate a mutually acceptable rent. Failing that he would fix a maximum rental.

BERLIN, March 30 (Friday) (INS).—The German news agency, D.P.A. (Deutsche Presse Agentur) said today that the Russians have closed the Berlin checkpoint on the motor highway leading to the Western zones of Germany.

The agency said the checkpoint was shut to all traffic at 11 p.m. Thursday (German time).

The new development came after delivery of an American-British protest against what was termed an "outrageous" Communist police attack Wednesday on four United States army buses filled with American tourists, including children.

Winnipeg Curbing Its Jaywalkers

WINNIPEG, March 29 (CP).—This city, with its wide streets and avenues, has long held the dubious distinction of being the jaywalker's paradise. But a new traffic by-law may bring its daring pedestrians into line.

Wismer Livens Debate With Colorful Show

—IN THE LEGISLATURE—

Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney will conclude the budget debate at 2:30 p.m. today in the Legislature.

By LAWRIE JOSLIN

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer is both a colorful and accomplished showman in debate and he didn't disappoint the people who crowded into the public galleries yesterday to hear him take part in the budget debate.

He parried and countered the verbal attacks of the Opposition with nimble wit and the keen edge of humor.

JOSLIN

His booming voice pounded out his views on liquor, hospital insurance and labor with the rapidity of a machine gun.

Only once did the Attorney-General lose his temper and that was when he declared he had been improperly quoted by C.C.F.-er Randolph Harding on his liquor stand, and the C.C.F.-er had the effrontery to claim that he was right.

ATTACKS SOCIALISM

With persistent attacks on Socialism, Mr. Wismer brought Opposition Leader Harold Winch to his feet many times. Once or twice members of the House, most of them aboard the Attorney-General's bandwagon tried to shout down the C.C.F. chief.

Independent W. A. C. Bennett, who broke with the Government two weeks ago, was a frequent interrupter, too.

About the member, Mr. Wismer observed:

"He's trying to be of assistance—perhaps not to me, but to someone."

Mr. Winch found the Attorney-General's reference to the "soak-the-rich policy" of the C.C.F. very painful.

"FAIR EQUITY"

It wasn't a question of soaking the rich, he contended. It was simply a question of the province getting a fair equity out of such big concerns as Consolidated Mining and Smelting.

The Attorney-General expressed concern over suggestions, far from the truth, that the Government worked with a high hand in caucus.

He expressed a wish that newspaper reporters could sit in on caucus meetings. The way things leaked out, they might as well attend meetings anyway, so that what happened could be reported more fully.

At the outset of his address, the Attorney-General rose to the defence of the Premier in the face of recent attacks on him.

SOLIDLY BEHIND

"On this side of the House we are solidly behind the Premier, as we were before," he declared.

The attacks on the Premier were inconsiderate in view of the fact he had not fully recovered from his injuries.

"It is a sad commentary on public life when we have men who wish to rise at the expense of another man's misfortune," asserted Mr. Wismer.

The soothing climax of the Attorney-General's speech must have left a pleasant tingling sensation in the ears of the members, which of late have been hearing many harsh sounds. The members accorded the Minister the longest and loudest ovation of the current session.

WILL NEVER CROSS

Mr. Wismer declared he would never cross the floor of the House even though he disagreed with the Government on a fundamental question such as liquor control.

"I was elected a member of this Coalition Government and I have a mandate to support it," he asserted.

Despite the fact that he had been defeated by Mr. Johnson for party leadership, he had decided to play on the Coalition team.

"Anyone who has participated in sports knows what happens to a team if there is not team play," he said. "If I hadn't intended to co-operate with my leader, I would never have joined him."

Modestly, he added he was not looking for any credit for his actions.

ONLY SYSTEM

Then he declared that the free enterprise system was the only system under which "this great industrial province can be developed."

"Do not be led astray by the rantings and mouthings of ambitious politicians," he urged. "Do not allow feelings of exasperation over what you may think are mistakes . . . to lead you to condemn our way of life. If you stand true to your faith all these annoyances and grievances will be righted."

The imagination of the people of B.C. must be stirred by "the great industrial program only possible in a free enterprise Canada under a free enterprise Provincial administration . . ." he said.

"Fight to defend free enterprise, you who are of the free enterprise faith," urged the Minister. "Be not led away by the mirage of pie in the sky offered you by the Socialists. Capital will flee from such a system."

Wismer Urges Lawsuit Study By Committee

Question of labor unions and management taking court action against each other should be reviewed during the coming year by the Legislature's select standing committee on labor, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer declared yesterday in the House.

Approval by the Labor Relations Board of any court action by either labor or management against the other might be considered advisable, he said.

In the past, costly court actions had wiped out some small labor groups before settlement was reached, he explained.

Mr. Wismer said the standing committee should also consider the advisability of requiring the Labor Relations Board to give reasons for its decisions.

IN RIGHT COURSE

The minister said it was true he had promised to open the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act. He added, however, that the actions of Labor Minister John Cates should show labor and management that he is following the right course.

With a select standing committee from all sides of the House to study labor "we can make real progress in another year," he asserted.

Union leaders know "we have a splendid act on the statutes of this province," he said.

He said that if he were a working man he would resent suggestions that the act be scrapped.

WOULD BE BETRAYAL

"That would be the greatest betrayal of labor that any Government has subjected them to," he asserted.

The Minister charged that the C.C.F. was making "political capital" out of labor's problems. He added that the Canadian Congress of Labor had made a great mistake in affiliating itself with the party.

D. D. McTavish Fire Trustee

Duncan D. McTavish was elected fire trustee for a three-year term at the annual meeting of the View Royal Fire Trustees. Retiring chairman, James Cleland, stated mutual arrangements had been concluded with Langford and Colwood for assistance in emergency.

Fire Chief A. E. Beasley reported only nine calls, all minor, during 1950. Thirty-one volunteer fire fighters are on call, stated the chief. He added an extra 300 feet of 2½-inch hose had been acquired during the year. Trustees are: Duncan D. McTavish, Wilf Gouge, C. R. Patrick secretary; E. Claxton, treasurer, W. E. Porter, auditor.

Fruit Growers Ask for More

The British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, in a telegram to Premier Byron Johnson and Agriculture Minister Henry Bowman, yesterday asked the Government to increase the $250,000 grant being made by the Province to assist Okanagan growers whose orchards were damaged by severe frosts last Winter.

The grant "will be far from sufficient to relieve even the worst cases of distress . . ." it was asserted in the message from C. A. Hayden, secretary of the association.

The Government was asked to request Federal Government assistance for the growers.

The association also urged the British Columbia Government, in conjunction with Ottawa, to make long-term, interest-free loans available to the growers.

Coal Output Down During February

BRITISH Columbia collieries produced 132,744 tons of coal last month, compared with an output of 151,551 tons in February, 1950.

Total output from Vancouver Island collieries for the past month was 45,273, compared with 52,679 in February, 1950, according to figures made public yesterday by Mines Minister R. C. MacDonald.

Elected as Coalitionist, Says Steele; Not Changing

R. C. STEELE (Cln., Omineca) declared yesterday in the Legislature that he had been elected to support the Coalition and he would return to his riding as a member of the Coalition.

The member said he realized hospital insurance premiums were high and added he did not agree completely with the introduction of co-insurance.

"But hospital insurance is a wonderful scheme and it has done tremendous good throughout the province," he declared.

Without hospital insurance persons on low incomes would find it even more difficult to pay much larger hospital bills.

Free Maternity Care

Co-Insurance Exemption Urged for Three Classes

Walter Hendricks (Cln., Nelson-Creston) told the Legislature yesterday the proposed Legislative committee on hospital insurance should make these three classes of patients exempt from payment of co-insurance:

1. Maternity cases.
2. Persons on low, fixed incomes.
3. Chronic cases.

"I trust it will soon be possible, when the bugs are ironed out, to grant these exemptions," said Mr. Hendricks.

He said he supported the changes in hospital insurance because he felt the scheme could be made to work in a year.

". . . And I have every reason to believe that our B.C. Hospital Insurance scheme will be a model for all of North America to pattern after," he added.

A system whereby areas surrounding municipalities in which hospitals are constructed could be charged a special hospital construction tax was advocated by Mr. Hendricks.

He was sorry the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act was not amended during the current session.

"I was given to understand at the last session that this act would be given consideration," he said. "I, like everyone else, have been wired, written and talked to by labor unions. I come from a very highly organized union district, and I can't help but support their requests that something be done and done soon."

Mr. Hendricks urged Mines Minister R. C. MacDonald to investigate thoroughly the possibility of establishing an iron industry in the East Kootenay.

A 16-hour-a-day schedule for the Koonenay Lake ferry was requested by the member. He indicated more tourist dollars would have been spent in the province if the ferry had been on a longer schedule.

Brig. Megill to Command Brigade Reinforcements

Brig. William J. Megill, D.S.O., will command members of the Special Brigade who don't go to Korea, it was reported from Ottawa yesterday.

The former British Columbia area commander will move with the remnants of the Special Brigade to Wainwright Camp, Alta., where, according to the Ottawa report, the group of 3,000 to 4,000 men will be "tapped for reinforcements."

Appointment of Brig. Megill was forecast earlier this week by The Daily Colonist, which said the group might become the nucleus of the Canadian brigade which is to go to Europe.

Although this was not stated by the Ottawa report yesterday, it is regarded as significant that Brig. Megill was transferred from the important command of B.C. area to take his new job.

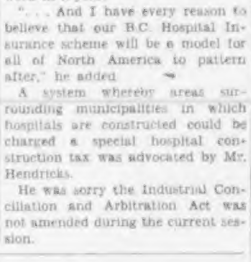

The core of the new brigade will be the 3rd (training) Battalions of the Royal 22nd Regiment, the Royal Canadian Regiment and the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. It will also include ancillary troops such as medical corps men and engineers.

Alberta University To Honor Victorian

F. G. Roe, Victoria, former railroad engineer and an authority on Western history, will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the Autumn convocation of the University of Alberta, October 20.

He is one of five men to receive such an honor in three convocation ceremonies to be held at the university this year. The list also includes F. G. Winspear, Edmonton, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Hotelmen's Liquor Stand Under Attack by Wismer

Stand of the Victoria Hotelmen's Association that sale of liquor by the glass would cut juvenile delinquency was attacked in the Legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

"If liquor is still to be available at the liquor store, how can you improve matters by adding many other avenues for the sale of it?" he asked.

To cut down "the giant and ever-increasing drink bill" more money should be spent on the Minister of Education's alcohol education program, stated Mr. Wismer.

"And stop liquor advertising," he added. "The men of distinction advising the people to drink Five Petunias whisky, the art of advertising men with unlimited budgets is the greatest cause of the increase in liquor consumption."

If enough of the Legislature agreed, he would bring in measures to halt liquor advertising, asserted Mr. Wismer.

Mr. Wismer said he had been attacked "absolutely unjustifiably" on several points.

Statements that a beer monopoly existed in the Province were untrue, he said. The Federal Government issued 11 brewery licenses in B.C. and the Liquor Control Board buys from them.

Beer parlor licences were not "a political franchise."

California wines were not sold in B.C. because their sale would disturb powerful local interests, stated Mr. Wismer. California wines are not sold in any of the Provinces of Canada.

Mission Boat to Sail Up West Coast Monday

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

By RAY WORMALD

The 50-foot Mv. Messenger III, owned and operated by [illegible] annual refit in Nanaimo and on Monday morning will sail from Victoria to start Summer activities along the British Columbia Coast.

This year the mission vessel will go beyond her usual run along the Island's West Coast and will visit the Queen Charlotte Islands and other points north. She will also contact the hospital vessel Willis Shank and join with her for special ceremonies at Alert Bay and Courtenay April 6 and 7.

Aboard the Messenger III when she sails from this port Monday will be Harold Peters, the skipper; Cecil Carter and Stanley Hemmons, from Prince Rupert; Jack Spratt, of Victoria, and Frank Martens, local representative of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

MADE ONE TRIP

Already this year the vessel has completed one cruise to the north end of the Island, and several shorter trips to isolated areas.

In past years the work of the Shantymen's organization has been confined to the West Coast of Vancouver Island. But this Spring, it is reported, the craft will call at many additional locations not reached by the church in inlets and bays along the coastline.

SERVICE HERE

A brief prayer service will be held aboard the Messenger III Sunday afternoon, when the vessel will be tied up at the Inner Harbor float directly in front of the Empress Hotel. To start at 3 p.m., the service will be open to anyone wishing to attend. Contributions of food, clothing or other articles will be accepted by Walter Eekman, 1026 Oliphant Street, or at the vessel.

Messenger III was built in Victoria in 1946 at Falconer Marine Industries Ltd.

SUB TO VISIT

The U.S.S. Carbonero, United States submarine, will reach Esquimalt naval base today for a three-day visit.

Commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. R. G. Anderson, the 311-foot undersea craft carries a crew of 75 officers and men. She is scheduled to return to Seattle Monday.

HAND SAVED

R.C.N. officials yesterday commented on a recent Daily Colonist report that one of the cruiser Ontario's men had injured his hand in machinery, that engine room temperatures soared to approximately 172 degrees at one stage of the current Spring training cruise, and that a number of the ship's engineroom personnel had fainted as a result of the excessive heat.

Word had been received, they said, that the unidentified sailor's injured hand was saved.

With reference to the engine room temperatures, R.C.N. men here say that under certain circumstances it is almost impossible to avoid such trouble when ships are in the tropics.

As for accidents, such misfortunes can happen to anyone, anywhere at any time. It stood to reason, naval men pointed out, that where men were in constant association with heavy machinery accidents were bound to occur despite all precautions.

SAILS ON NAMESAKE

It isn't very often that a private in the U.S. Army bound for overseas, climbs up the gangplank to a ship that bears his own name. But it happened in Seattle recently.

The private was Joe P. Martinez of Kingsbury, Calif., and the ship was the U.S.N.S. Pte. Joe P. Martinez, no relation.

"It goes without saying that the private took a lot of kidding from his buddies in the infantry group and the crew as well," navy public information officers at the Seattle port of embarkation said.

The Pte. Joe P. Martinez carried P.P.C.L.I. troops to Japan on an earlier voyage.

VESSEL OVERDUE

A United States Fish and Wildlife Service vessel yesterday was three days overdue at Juneau, Alaska, on voyage from Seattle.

The ship, the Sable Fish, was last reported at Bella Bella Monday—the day it was due to arrive at Juneau.

An R.C.A.F. search and rescue plane is standing by at Sea Island Airport, Vancouver, in case an air search is ordered.

SHIP WORK SEEN

The Prince Rupert Daily News said yesterday in a newspage story that "big shipbuilding in Prince Rupert may start again."

The story added: "Unofficial but reliable sources said there are strong indications this city's drydock and shipyard will soon be activated with several orders for small-type navy vessels. No other information is immediately available."

The shipyard turned out several freighters during the World War but has since been comparatively inactive.

Wismer Defends Police Switch

Transfer of the B.C. Police to the R.C.M.P. represented economy with progress, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer declared yesterday in the Legislature.

He said the move has resulted in a saving not only for the Province but for the municipalities as well because they are getting policing at less cost.

He recalled what he termed "hysterical" attacks from the Leader of the Opposition and in newspapers when the move was contemplated last year.

"They know now that this was the best thing that was ever done in the history of this Government for efficient policing and economy," stated the Attorney-General.

"Does this mean the B.C. Police were not doing a proper job?" asked Opposition Leader Harold Winch.

Mr. Wismer replied he had never at any time said the B.C. Police were not efficient.

The minister stated that the white strip licence plate and five-year drivers' licences were methods of economy advised by experts.

"Are ministers to be encouraged in economy or are they to be blasted in proceeding with reforms advocated by experts?" he asked.

RECOMMISSIONING

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Crusader, a unit of the R.C.N. reserve fleet for some time, will be recommissioned Monday morning.

Naval officials said yesterday the brief ceremony would be held at 9:30 a.m.

Homeward-Bound Ship Now War-Tested Veteran

When the destroyer H.M.C.S. Cayuga left Esquimalt last July for service in Korean waters she was a "rookie" in the realm of fighting ships.

But today, homeward-bound after nearly eight months Korean service, she is a war-tested veteran. The warship is due at Esquimalt at 2 p.m., April 7.

[illegible] the Cayuga steamed nearly 50,000 miles—on operations ranging from long and monotonous patrols and screening assignments to shore bombardments and the daring Chinnampo evacuation of last December.

Of the 223 days she spent in Korean waters, 161 were spent at sea on active duty — her longest single stretch at sea being a 50-day patrol that started last November 20.

Her guns fired more than 1,000 rounds of four-inch ammunition, practically all of it at shore targets.

SOME OF HIGHLIGHTS

Here are some highlights of Cayuga's operations while serving with the United Nations:

Participation last September in the invasion of Inchon, with her commanding officer (Capt. Jeffrey Brock) assuming command of a United Nations force protecting the southern flank of the invasion area.

Leading a United Nations destroyer task group into a West Korean port during the Chinnampo operation to cover evacuation of 7,000 persons and destroy harbor installations. Her operation was described as "one of the most hazardous of the campaign."

The bombardment of enemy shore positions at Inchon early in the new year, when the ship came under Communist fire for her first time. There were no casualties and no damage to the ship.

Cayuga's final patrol, which ended March 14, saw her carrying out duties as screen commander of a destroyer group operating in the Yellow Sea. H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, also Esquimalt-based, was included in the group.

Natural gas is usually found with crude oil in underground "vaults" of stone, shale and sand.
